Says he would go with them to the Capitol, but doesn't. He slips into his car and goes to the White House instead

One woman shot and killed by police during attempt by mob to break through a barricaded door; three others die too

Session resumes after mob's eviction; V-P Mike Pence defies Trump, affirms President-elect Joe Biden's victory

Trump finally says there will be orderly transition on January 20; Reps weigh options to stop Don even before his term ends

Where are they?" a Trump supporter demanded in a crowd of dozens roaming the halls of the Capitol, bearing Trump flags and pounding on doors. They — lawmakers, staff members and more — were hiding under tables, hunkered in lockdowns, saying prayers and seeing the fruits of the country's divisions up close and violent.

Guns were drawn. A woman was shot and killed by police, and three others died in apparent medical emergencies. A Trump flag hung on the Capitol. The graceful Rotunda reeked of tear gas. Glass shattered. On Wednesday, hallowed spaces of American democracy, one after another, yielded to the occupation of Congress, the Associated Press reported.

The pro-Trump mob took over the presiding officer's chair in the Senate, the offices of the House speaker and the Senate dais, where one yelled, "Trump won that election."

They mocked its leaders, posing for photos in the office of House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, one with his feet propped on a desk in her office, another sitting in the same seat Vice President Mike Pence had occupied only moments before during the proceedings to certify the Electoral College vote. That certification would eventually take place, but not until well after midnight.

After the dust settled, several White House officials resigned and House Judiciary Democrats circulated new articles of impeachment saying Trump committed high crimes and violated his oath to faithfully execute the office of the presidency by inciting violence. Within his Republican party itself, moves were afoot to explore ways to remove him from office for the remaining two weeks of his term.

Some critics would argue that while Trump wore his crassness on his sleeve, the US has always been that way but with a lot more polish. The mayhem the US injected across the world for decades to germinate democracies led to bloody uprisings and the African and Arab Springs, repercussions of which are still being felt. Wednesday's failed insurrection merely showed a mirror to the US of the havoc its policies have caused elsewhere though it keeps lecturing the world on democracy.

What happened during the day was nothing less than an attempted coup, said Republican lawmaker Diana DeGette. Police recovered two pipe bombs and Molotov cocktails. As the mob got out of control, police evacuated lawmakers, grabbing boxes of Electoral College certificates as they left.

The mess ended after heavily armed officers brought in as reinforcements started using tear gas to get people moving toward the door.

Video footage showed officers letting people calmly walk out the doors despite the rioting and vandalism. Only about a dozen arrests were made. "This is how a coup is started," said another Republican lawmaker Jimmy Gomez. "This is how democracy dies."

The world reacted in horror, with Prime Minister Narendra Modi tweeting: "Distressed to see news about rioting and violence in Washington DC. Orderly and peaceful transfer of power must continue. The democratic process cannot be allowed to be subverted through unlawful protests." P8,12

Centre estimates pandemic to pull down GDP growth to -7.7%

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

INDIA'S pandemic-battered economy will shrink only 7.7% in the ongoing financial year (FY21) and not the near 10% decline projected by international agencies like the IMF and World Bank, according to the government's advance GDP estimate released on Thursday.

According to the Finance Ministry, the GDP estimates reflect resurgence in economic activities in the third and fourth quarters. "The continuous quarter-on-quarter growth endorses the strength of economic fundamentals of the country to sustain a post-lockdown V-shaped recovery," a ministry statement read.

However, the government's projections would still make FY21 the worst year for Indian economy since independence.

In FY20, GDP had grown 4.2% — the slowest in 11 years.

Real GDP at constant prices in FY21 is likely to attain a level of ₹134.40 lakh crore as against the provisional estimate of ₹145.66 lakh crore in FY20.

Nominal GDP, which includes the price increases along with real output growth, is projected to contract 4.2% to ₹194.82 lakh crore.

The first advanced GDP estimate is based on data of a seven-month period (April–October) — using a mix of data such as corporate results, agriculture production, transport and freight estimates, IIP, and bank deposits. The projection may be revised when better data is available. The second advance estimate is due to be released on February 26.

Expert flags Covishield's neuro-inflammatory risk

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

On the eve of the launch of Covishield, the Oxford-AstraZeneca-Serum Institute of India (SII) vaccine for Covid-19 in the country, medical experts have drawn attention to some unanswered questions in a public assessment report. These pertain to the control of the transmission of SARS-CoV-2, its efficacy against the new strains of N501Y & B1.1.7 or other such mutations in the spike protein of the SARS-CoV-2 virus and the reported adverse events (of the vaccine).

"The reported adverse events of the vaccine suggest that there is a high risk of neuro-inflammatory disorders, including transverse myelitis, facial nerve palsies and trigeminal neuralgia that need to be closely monitored," Dr Vishal Rao, well-known oncologist and member of an expert committee of the Covid Task Force, Government of Karnataka, has pointed out in a scientific correspondence, which was shared with The News Indian Express.

Experts have also raised concerns about some other open issues regarding the vaccine, such as the duration of protection from antibody response and dosing beyond the two-dose schedule, effectiveness of the vaccine against long-term effects of Covid-19 disease, effectiveness in children below 18 years of age, pregnant, lactating women and immune-compromised individuals.

While commending the transparency, good clinical and ethical practices of the vaccine in 'The Public Assessment Report of the Authorisation for Temporary Supply of AZD1222 from the MHRA, Government of UK,' Dr Rao has stated that the data presented in this report has some "unanswered questions pertaining to the control of the transmission of SARS-CoV-2 or to prevent infection, though it seems to reduce the intensity of the illness. We will have to continue to wear face masks even after getting vaccinated," he has stated.

The Public Assessment Report has highlighted Adverse Events (AEs), Serious Adverse Events (SAEs) and the risks that ought to be included in the information for healthcare professionals and recipients of the AstraZeneca/ Serum Institute of India Covid-19 vaccine 'Covishield.'

Some fun and games for Classes 10, 12 to de-stress

Confined to home, kids in rural, urban areas spending more time on gadgets: Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE government is considering conducting activity-based personality development exercises for students in Classes 10 and 12 from January 15, Minister for Primary and Secondary Education Suresh Kumar told media on Thursday.

At present, while academic classes are being held only for half a day for students of Grades 10 and 12.

The minister said that during visits to schools across the state, he learned that students in both rural and urban areas are under a lot of stress. Girls especially, he said, do not leave their houses and several students spend a lot of time on their gadgets and have almost no physical activity.

Several children are in need of counselling. School managements have been asked to appoint a teacher as a mentor for 10 students and observe their behaviour, and also watch for symptoms, Kumar said. A similar model was in place during the SSLC examination, and is much needed now, he said.

SOPs for private residential schools

The government would initiate talks with officials at privately-run residential schools, and the Technical Advisory Committee on whether a separate SOP was required for such schools, Kumar said, adding that a decision would be taken soon.

This comes at a time when hostels run by the social welfare and backward classes departments, and private residential schools are functioning. "Students are being tested there before they get admitted to hostels. The Technical Advisory Committee has said that the impact of Covid-19 on young children is not much. Those with symptoms will be treated," he said.

RETHINK SYLLABUS DECISION: SCHOOLS TO MIN

Private schools have written to Education Minister S Suresh Kumar asking him to reconsider the decision of not cutting syllabus for Class 1-9. Administrators said it has caused a lot of confusion. Due to the pandemic, schools recorded just 40% attendance, be it online or offline classes of 30-45 minutes. A large number of students missed academic and regular learning processes, did not go for Vidyagama, online or offline classes. Schools are not sure of completing the syllabus in four months' time.

JANASEVAKA PROGRAMME TO RESUME ON JAN 15

Kumar, who is also Minister for Sakala, said that the Janasevaka scheme will resume on January 15. It will be started in five assembly segments.

KITE FEST NEARS, BIRD INJURIES FEARED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH the Sankranti festival a week away, veterinarians, ornithologists and animal rights activists are concerned about birds getting caught in kite string and getting injured.

Many birds get caught in kite string that gets snagged in trees or buildings, due to people flying kites during Sankranti, activists say.

In the past week alone, six birds were rescued. Veterinarians say 2020 saw a 72% increase in rescues from 2019. Last year, 177 birds were rescued, while 2019 saw 102 such incidents.

The rescued birds include kites, pigeons, crows, owls, and even wetland species such as egrets and pelicans. "Despite there being a ban on using Chinese Manja and synthetic string by the National Green Tribunal, they are still being manufactured, sold and used. Civic authorities, forest department and the state government must address this issue," said an activist.

"Bird rescues due to manja-related injuries soar every year around Sankranti which is also a festival of flying kites. The lockdown has had a huge impact on the number of people taking up kite flying with string made of nylon and synthetic manja. This has to stop as it is impacting the city's wildlife deeply," said Colonel Dr Navaz Shariff, chief veterinarian, PfA Wildlife Rescue and Conservation Centre.

A BBMP official said that religious sentiments are involved here and so a balanced approach is needed. "The matter will be discussed with the government. This time we are hoping that cases will be less because of the pandemic and the restrictions in place," he said.

Police to HC: Overheated car engine caused Aero India fire'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE investigation conducted by the Yelahanka police into the Aero India Show 2019 fire mishap has revealed that the overheated engine and silencer of a car caused the fire after it came in contact with fully grown dry grass in the domestic parking area, resulting in more than 300 cars being gutted. About 90% of vehicle owners have got compensation from insurance companies so far.

These findings of the investigation report were placed before the Karnataka High Court on Thursday, in response to directions issued by the court which is hearing a PIL filed by Wing Commander G B Athri (retd) and advocate Geetha Misra. They have sought the appointment of a judicial commission to probe the mishap.

In the report submitted before a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum, on the fire mishap that took place on February 23, 2019, the Assistant Commissioner of Police, Yelahanka Sub-Division, explained that 277 cars were fully burnt and 44 cars were partially burnt.

Concluding that the mishap was accidental, the investigating officer also stated that 242 vehicle owners have received compensation from insurance companies while the owners of vehicles having no valid licence and 35 vehicles having third-party insurance had not received compensation, it said.

Referring to the statements of 11 eyewitnesses, the officer said that HAL had replied that the Domestic Parking Area (P-4) was under the Indian Air Force.

To establish the cause of the fire, samples of burnt articles were sent to the Forensic Science Laboratory for examination. The report was submitted to the Tahsildar of Yelahanka taluk, to close the case registered on the based on the complaint filed by Wing Commander, Air Force, Yelahanka, the investigating officer said.

Meanwhile, the counsel for HAL indicated before the court that the entry of the general public is unlikely for Aero India 2021 at Bengaluru.

After recording the submissions and taking the report into account, the bench directed the Ministry of Defence to file an affidavit stating the measures to be taken to ensure such mishaps do not recur. If parking is allowed, the Air Force should take precautions with the support of local authorities, it said. The matter was adjourned to February 17 toconsider the MoD's affidavit.

'File report on widening of Ballari, Jayamahal roads'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday asked the State government to file a compliance report on the directions of the Supreme Court and High Court over the acquisition of 15.39 acres Palace Grounds land through Transfer of Development Rights (TDR) for widening of Jayamahal Road (From Mekhri Circle to Cantonment) and Ballari Road (from BDA Junction to Mekhri Circle).

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum passed the order after the state government placed the orders passed by the government to ask BBMP to give TDR to owners of Palace Grounds through the Bangalore Development Authority and to approve the proposal of Rs 56 crore for widening of the two roads.

The Bench was hearing a Public Interest Litigation filed by city-based socio-cultural organisation Samarpana in relation to traffic congestion on those roads due to delay in widening.

08th January: Cancerian alignments remind us of the Crab, this sensitive sign's ruling creature. The Crab is famous for its hard shell and sideways movements. Astrologers interpret this to mean that Cancerian people can be very shy, and also go about their lives in a 'sideways' manner, finding roundabout ways to deal with problems, instead of facing them head-on.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
That magical planet Mercury reassures you that there is a great deal to be done before your wishes come true, but also that you're on the right track. Romantically, the most important consideration is still security. If you feel safe, then you'll be prepared to take a well-calculated risk or two.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
One of the most important planetary aspects of the moment is that which cements friendships at work. The overwhelming priority now is to get on with people in authority. You may go for the best long-term options, and treat short-term temptations with a healthy scepticism.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It's definitely traditional values which suit you best at the moment. This doesn't mean that you're a stick-in-the-mud reactionary, but that what appeals is the way things were done better in the past. And, having applied tried and trusted methods, you may set out your plans for the future.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
This is an ideal moment to set about building up future security, if only because you're no longer trapped in the past. If other people are refusing to play ball, it might be best for you to get on and seek out companions who are older, wiser and generally more suited to your current mood.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You don't seem to have any choice but to press on with the job in hand. Happily, your lunar alignments indicate that you may throw caution to the wind and might walk away from a particular engagement without too much fuss. Don't leave anyone feeling let down and abandoned, though.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The general situation continues to look favourable, but there's a heavy emphasis on those of you who have some sort of artistic or creative vocation. The rest of you may feel strangely dissatisfied, but you can do a lot to help yourself by looking for the deeper pattern which underpins your life.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You do still have to be down-to-earth if you want to get on, but nothing is as simple as it seems. The most effective course may be to put fantasy first and facts second, strange as that may seem. The point is that you might solve practical problems by applying unlikely solutions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's a useful moment for discussions, debates and choices, and it really is time that you made up your mind. It is doubtful whether anyone else can do this for you, so search out the facts and then take the best decision you can. But don't imagine that it's final!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
One medium-term pattern in your horoscope suggests that you should try and talk to people at home much more often. And if you do this already then perhaps it's a case of making sure that they listen! It's not a question of chatting about daily affairs, but of getting to grips with deeper issues.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The pursuit of happiness is an essential human right, and it's certainly one that you should be aiming for at the moment. If at all possible, you should draw family members into whatever good fortune comes your way. You may also bring together friends who have fallen out.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You may give yourself as much time as you need to get your feelings in perspective. There is a lot to be said for putting pressure on people who don't yet seem to be responding to your blandishments. Mind you, in the final analysis you can't exactly make them agree with you!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It's time to give more attention to social connections. The gatherings which should be most suitable today involve either family members or friends who are so close that you may as well be related to them. However, you might be expected to do all the arrangements.

DRY RUN OF COVID-19 VACCINATION TODAY

To be held at 263 health facilities across the state; it will test actual system of vaccine delivery from end-to-end

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICES
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA is set to launch the second dry run of the Covid-19 immunisation programme, which is much larger in scale than the first one on January 2.

According the Central guidelines, a trial would have to be done in at least three locations in each district on Friday, Health Minister Dr Sudhakar said on Thursday. "So the dry run in Karnataka will be held at 263 different health facilities across the state tomorrow," he said.

The exercise will be carried out at 30 urban primary health care centres and 28 private health centres. The drill would test the actual system of vaccine delivery from end-to-end. A similar exercise on a smaller scale was held on January 2 in five districts: Bengaluru (including BBMP), Belagavi, Kalaburagi, Mysuru and Shivamogga.

Union Health Minister Dr Harsh Vardhan chaired a video conference of health ministers of all the states.

FACILITY NAME	CATEGORY	BLOCK
Singasandra Urban PHC	Government	Bommanahalli
Sapthagiri Medical College	Private	Dasarahalli
Ulsoor Referral Hospital	Government	East
KR Puram General Hospital	Government	Mahadevapura
Kengeri CHC	Government	RR Nagar
KIMC	Private	South
Bangalore Medical College	Government	West

'Infrastructure ready'

Sudhakar said that around 6.3 lakh health workers from both the government and private sector have signed up for the vaccine and the window for registration is still open. They will be among one crore people across India who will be inoculated against Covid on priority basis.

He said the state has the infrastructure for the vaccination drive. "The Centre has provided 24 lakh syringes of 0.5 ml each. We have 10 walk-in coolers, 4 walk-in freezers, 3,201 ice line refrigerators, 3,039 deep freezers, 3,312 cold boxes, 46,591 vaccine carriers and 2,25,749 ice packs. The Centre has also provided 64 large ice line refrigerators with a capacity of 225 litres each. Two more walk-in coolers and one walk-in freezer will be received from the Centre," Sudhakar said, told media after the video conference with the Union Health Minister.

"Vaccination should be a people's movement. There is no harm from it and people should act responsibly. The polio vaccination drive will be held and 65 lakh children will be vaccinated on January 17," he said.

UK returnees

As many as 117 people who returned from the UK and are in Karnataka are yet to be traced. Of these, 112 are in Bengaluru and the rest in other districts, Sudhakar said.

Personnel from the home, health, and urban development departments, and Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike are working to trace the UK returnees, and there is no attempt to mask the numbers, he said. "Many of them hold foreign passports, and over 1,000 people who have come are from other states. Those states have been alerted to take necessary action," he said.

At least 2,523 UK returnees have so far undergone Covid-19 tests, and 65 have tested COVID-19 positive on an RT-PCR test, he added.

Meanwhile, two people who were infected with the UK strain have recovered. A 35-year-old woman and her six-year-old daughter from Bommanahalli in Bengaluru were discharged from Victoria Hospital on Wednesday. At present, only 14 of 26 UK returnees remain in Victoria Hospital.

Eleven people have tested positive for the UK strain. Seven of these people are in Bengaluru and four in Shivamogga.

Karnataka in the dark over financial burden of Covid jab

CHETANA BELAGERE@Bengaluru

WITH just a few days left for the vaccine rollout in the country, the state government is still awaiting clarity on the financial burden.

Like many states, Karnataka too is not sure as to what expense formula will be adopted for mass vaccination. Though states will receive the first round of vaccines through Government Medical Store Depots (GMSDs) for free, experts believe that there is still a lack of clarity on the other phases.

States need to prepare for the next plan of action and need to see if they will have the capacity to handle the entire programme on their own especially at a time when they are cash-strapped, say experts.

"It would be good to have clarity to ensure a smooth rollout of the vaccination programme. And also for planning, especially at the state level – as the cost is not insignificant," said Bioethics researcher Dr Anant Bhan.

However, sources from the state health ministry claimed that the Centre may roll out the vaccines for all three phases for free. "Though Karnataka is cash-strapped and has been seeking more financial assistance from the Centre to tide over the losses due to the pandemic and the lockdown, it can still manage the vaccination situation," said a health official.

But a senior member from the state task force committee said that the Centre will come out with a policy on who will pay and who will not. "All those engaged in the pandemic, healthcare and frontline workers will get it for free. The rest, with regards to those above 50-55 years of age, we don't know whether they have to be given it for free or have to be charged. We expect to get clarity on this soon," the official said.

While the first phase of the vaccine is not going to be a headache for the states, it needs to be seen whether the government bears the fiscal burden or transfers it to private players, which means people pay from their pockets to get vaccinated. According to health ministry sources, the Centre has advised state governments to explore using bank guarantees to finance the cost of buying vaccines.

Interestingly, in a recent report, FICCI-E&Y suggested that a big source of funding could come from India Inc. "Some corporates have come out with suggestions pertaining to the vaccination. Companies want the government to allow them to use corporate social responsibility (CSR) funds to vaccinate their employees," a senior official said.

However, the Centre is yet to respond to this suggestion.

Adverse events need to be monitored, says doctor

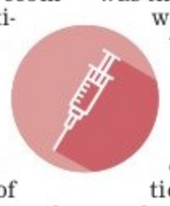
"ACCORDING to the report, 'Covishield' uses the recombinant (synthetic) particles, which target a particular region of the virus — Spike (S) glycoprotein. The question remains whether this vaccine will be effective against the new strains of N501Y & B1.1.7 or other such mutations in the spike protein of SARS-CoV-2," Dr Vishal Rao has asked.



He has also pointed out an important aspect of the study-based report, which was the "use of paracetamol, which has the potential to confound the symptoms developed by volunteers in groups. There is limited information available on its efficacy on participants aged 65 years or above," he pointed out.

In his correspondence, Dr Rao has also mentioned about the reported adverse events (of the vaccine) which suggested that there is a "high risk of neuro-inflammatory disorders, including transverse myelitis, facial nerve palsies and trigeminal neuralgia that need to be closely monitored.

There was one serious adverse event (SAE) reported in the lay press from the India study too, but there is no information in the public domain on the causal relationship of this complication," he has stated.

In the case of the mentioned SAE, the SII had earlier said that the "Covishield vaccine is safe and immunogenic...and that all the requisite regulatory and ethical processes and guidelines were followed diligently and strictly."

Dr Rao and other experts, noted that "similar levels of transparency are commendable and need to be adopted by all other Covid-19 vaccine candidates. This will help volunteers and participants receiving the vaccine make a more informed decision," he said.

Panchayat members to be trained in admin

Dept to focus on resource mobilisation, village development and financial management; to be held across state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE State Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) department will conduct a training programme to the newly elected Gram Panchayat (GP) members from January 19 to March 26. Training will be conducted in batches across the state.

As many as 900 resource persons have been deputed to give training at 285 centres to 92,131 members from 5,762 Gram Panchayats. The panchayat elections in the state were held on December 22 and 27 and results were announced on December 30.

During the five-day programme, from 10.30 am to 4 pm every day, the members will be given training in 15 topics including administration and fund mobilisation. These members will be given a lecture via video conferencing. The entire cost of the training will be Rs 27.16 crore, shared by the State and Union governments under the Rashtriya Gram Swaraj Abhiyan.

RDPR Department Principal Secretary L K Ateeq said that the training programme this year will be different from the previous one as it is held once in five years. This time the training covers perspective planning for the development of the village in the next five years, Gram Panchayat administration, Gram Sabha meetings, financial management, allocation of funds under the 15th Finance Commission, works under the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) and other subjects relevant to them.

The training this year will be different from the previous one. The training covers perspective planning for development of the village in the next five years – L K Ateeq, RDPR Department Principal Secretary

The training will also focus on resource mobilisation as the state government is keen in making panchayats self-sufficient. At present, panchayats are largely dependent on government grants. The RDPR Department is working on a proposal to increase property tax in panchayat limits and the members will play an important role in implementation of the government programmes and also in collecting taxes.

Mines and Geology Minister C C Patil during his visit to Udupi on Saturday

COASTAL DISTS TO HAVE SAND POLICY SOON

VINCENT D'SOUZA @Mangaluru

A SEPARATE sand policy is in the offing for the three coastal districts of the state – Dakshina Kannada, Udupi and Uttara Kannada. This comes after the elected representatives from the region expressed strong reservations regarding the recent Karnataka sand policy implemented by the government. They have stated that a uniform law cannot be applied to the coast which is different from the rest of the state in several ways. It is said that the new sand policy is not helping the coastal region because of various challenges posed by local conditions.

A delegation of MLAs from Dakshina Kannada and Udupi districts had met Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa to apprise him of the need for a separate sand policy for the coast. On Thursday, Minister for Mines and Geology C C Patil, flanked by Commerce and Industries Principal Secretary G Kumar Naik and Mining and Geology Director D S Ramesh held a lengthy deliberation with the elected representatives of the region. Following the meeting, the minister announced that a separate policy would be formulated in 15 days' time.

Sources privy to the meeting said the minister has summoned deputy commissioners of the coastal districts to Bengaluru for further deliberations on the matter. The minister will also hold meetings with the Advocate General to see if a separate policy will comply with the orders of the Green Tribunal and pass legal scrutiny.

Why separate policy? Unlike in other parts of the state, sand mining in the coast takes place mainly during summer and to some extent during winter when the water flow in the rivers is less. Flooding of areas located close to the rivers during monsoon is a common phenomenon in the region and it is attributed to non-removal of sand bars in river beds at regular intervals, for which there is no provision in the present state sand policy.

Further, while the policy allows transportation of sand in villages in bullock carts and tractors, both are not available in the coastal region. Though sand is available in plenty across the region, consumers are hit by scarcity as it is illegally transported to Kerala where there is huge demand for it.

A year ago, the authorities launched the 'Sand Bazar' app to ensure timely supply of sand to consumers and at a reasonable price. However, complaints of sand scarcity continue. The minister said that in order to overcome the scarcity and check illegal transportation to Kerala, 196 CCTV cameras will be installed on the Karnataka-Kerala border in Dakshina Kannada and more cops will be deployed on the borders. Also, the number of sand miners in the district will be increased from the present 103, he stated.

'Work hard', Gowda, HDK give workers pep talk

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AHEAD of taluk panchayat and zilla panchayet elections to be held in the next few months, senior JDS leaders have asked party workers across the state to work hard to strengthen the party and start preparing for elections.

Addressing party leaders from across the state during a meeting in Bengaluru on Thursday, former Prime Minister and JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda said there are dedicated party workers in all districts and they should fight the elections unitedly. The JDS leader also asked party workers to take up a membership drive in all taluks.

Former Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy said they will make major changes in the organisation after Sankranti (January 14) and form a state-level committee that comprises representatives from all 224 assembly segments. "The committee members will meet every month to discuss issues from across the state. Similar committees will be formed at the district and taluk levels. We need to go to the people, understand their problems and take up programmes to help them," he said.

Kumaraswamy said taluk presidents will be changed if they fail to involve representatives from all booths in party work, and hold regular meetings. "If we don't have big leaders in all booths, involve some youngsters, we will train them," he said.

Stating that he is willing to work for 20 hours a day to strengthen the party, the former CM said that party leaders need to work hard for the next two-and-half years so they can win the next assembly elections. "There is no difficulty in winning 30 to 40 seats. Even now we can win those many seats, but we have depended on others (to form government). Let us work hard and reach out to people," he said, adding that party leaders must ensure the JDS comes to power on its own.

MINISTER'S DIKTAT

Call 1962, report cow slaughter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TWO days after issuing the Karnataka Prevention of Slaughter and Preservation of Cattle Ordinance -- 2020, Animal Husbandry Minister Prabhu Chavan appealed to people to dial 1962 if they come across any cow slaughter cases in their villages. He is also travelling across the state appealing to farmers to leave their cows in their goshalas.

In a release, the minister said if people save cows from culling, the government will support them. He also said people can lodge complaints at the nearest police station or inform Animal Husbandry Department officials. "We have Pashu Sanjeevini helpline (1962). People can call there and complaint. They will in turn inform the police station concerned," he said.

On illegal transportation and slaughter of cows, officials has been given more power to rescue and levy huge penalty on them along with imprisonment in the ordinance. It is applicable from Wednesday. Officials are directed to handover rescued cows to goshalas.

Chavan said, "We are planning to start one goshala per taluk, both private and government."

Council fracas: Ayanur writes to chairman, says probe panel is illegal

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

THE ugly standoff between the BJP and Congress in the legislative council is far from over. After Council chairman P C Shetty constituted a House committee to look into the December 15 incident, the BJP has expressed unhappiness over it.

BJP MLC and former MP Ayanur Manjunath, who was present in the House that day, wrote to Chairman Shetty on Thursday, saying the committee he had constituted should be cancelled. Manjunath pointed out that he considered it "illegal and biased", and questioned the appointment of members and constitution of the committee.

The committee, comprising Congress MLCs B K Hariprasad and R B Timmapur, JDS MLC Mari Sidde Gowda and BJP MLCs Adagur H Vishwanath and S V Sankhnur, was not proper, he said. Shetty should have consulted the leader of the BJP in the House Kota Sreenivas Poojary, or Mahantesh Kavatimath, the whip, and sought two names from them, Manjunath added.

Quoting House rules, he said that the committee cannot be constituted suo motu, and the consent of the House should be taken first.

Recalling similar scenes in the legislative assembly in October 2010, when MLA Goolihatti Shekar's shirt was torn, Manjunath said the issue was looked into by a House committee, but the issue was different. While the Vidhana Sabha allows for these rules, the Vidhana Parishad does not. He said the then Council chairman D H Shankaramurthy, when questioned about BJP numbers in the House, had immediately put the matter to vote.

"An issue concerning Council staff can be inquired into by the chairman personally but cannot be referred to a committee," Manjunath said, and alleged that Shetty had not responded to two of his previous letters, dated December 13 and 17.

Govt employees barred from cultural activities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

STATE government employees are now barred from publishing books, participating in radio broadcasts, films, television serials, contributing articles or writing letters to newspapers, without previous sanction of the government.

The State government on Thursday issued a notification on the Karnataka State Civil Services (Conduct) Rules, 2021. The government had published the draft rules in October 2020, inviting suggestions and objections. The notification, however, states that prior sanction is not required for purely literary, artistic or scientific works, or if such broadcast, telecast, film or writing is of a purely literary, artistic or scientific character. "The government servant, without sanction of the prescribed authority, may engage himself occasionally in artistic, literary, scientific and other such cultural or academic activities having no commercial gain, provided his duties are not affected by such activities," the rules state.

Besides, government servants have to take prior permission from the prescribed authority for undertaking private foreign tours, and no government servant while on leave or otherwise, except in cases of urgency, may leave the jurisdiction of his duty or headquarters without intimation or permission.

Employees cannot criticise any policy of the state, Centre or other state government. "No government servant shall, in any radio broadcast or television programme or communication over any public media or in any document published in his own name or anonymously, pseudonymously or in the name of any other person in any communication to the press or in any public utterance, make any statement of fact or opinion, which has the effect of adverse criticism of any current or recent policy or action of the government, central government or of any other state government," the rules state.

However, it will not apply to any statement made or views expressed by government servants in their official capacity, or in due performance of duties assigned to them.

Government servants and their family members are also not permitted to accept gifts that include free transport, boarding, lodging or other services, or any other pecuniary advantage when provided by any person other than a near relative or personal friend having no official dealing with the government servant.

However, a casual meal, lift or other local hospitality shall not be deemed to be a gift. A government servant may accept gifts from personal friends having no official dealings with him, but shall make a report to the prescribed authority if the value of any such gift exceeds one half of the monthly basic salary, the rules stated.

State to grow biz in Chamarajanagar with roadshows in TN and Kerala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

THE State government, keen to encourage industrialisation and attract investments in Chamarajanagar district, plans to hold roadshows and interactions with investors in Tamil Nadu and Kerala.

Announcing this at an interaction with industrialists here, Industries Minister Jagadish Shettar said the government will hold interactions and rallies in Tiptur, Coimbatore in Tamil Nadu, besides cities in Kerala in February.

He said the government is keen on encouraging industrial development in Tier-2 cities, and the focus will be on Dharwad, Shivamogga, Kalaburagi, Yadgir and Raichur, to minimise pressure on Bengaluru. He said that Karnataka had got 1,188 proposals between January and October 2020, including 95 proposals from within the state. A Kerala-based industry is setting up a unit on 30 acres in Chamarajanagar, and the government is extending all support, he added. The industries department has called for a meeting on January 15 to give a fillip to setting up small industries, and will also hold a single-window meeting once a month in all districts to approve projects.

Shettar told officers to convert big plots into smaller plots and allot them to SC/ST entrepreneurs, who can avail of 75 per cent subsidy from the social welfare department. He regretted that the Karnataka Small Scale Industrial Development Corporation is not focusing on small industries.

Shettar directed officers to provide water supply to Badanaguppe industrial area within a month, besides other facilities. He said the government wanted more small industries to set up units in Chamarajanagar. The banking sector should change its approach to encourage manufacturing, he said.

Chamarajanagar MLA Puttaranga Shetty said land losers are yet to get compensation, and the government must provide them with employment.

CASH CRISIS

'Sari', can't accept your proposal: Finance Dept to minister

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

MINISTER proposes but the Finance Department disposes. Textile Minister Shrimanth Patil had hit upon an idea to help weavers, who were struggling to stitch their lives together, thanks to the pandemic outbreak. He wanted to procure saris from them and gift them to Covid warriors – doctors, nurses, pourakarmikas, anganwadi and ASHA health workers and Home Guards. This was estimated to cost Rs 36 crore. But the Finance Department has rejected his proposal citing financial crisis.

Karnataka has about 54,000 handloom and 1.4 lakh powerloom weavers, mostly concentrated in Belagavi, Bagalkot, Chitradurga, Vijayapura, Bengaluru Rural and Ramanagaram districts. Minister Patil's plan was to gift the saris to the Covid warriors by Dasara or Deepavali last year.

A senior official from the Textile Department said that the minister wanted to procure 6 lakh saris from weavers, with the price ranging from Rs 500 to Rs 600 per sari and gift two each to 3 lakh Covid warriors. The cost estimate of Rs 36 crore was sent to the Finance Department for approval. But the department rejected the minister's proposal.

Sources from the minister's office said that after the Finance Department rejected their file, they had sent it again. This time, the Minister had spoken to Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa. "At present, the government is not in a position to spend Rs 36 crore on the purchase of saris. It is a huge amount and not advisable. We were told that this time too the Finance Department will reject our file," said a Textile Department official.

The state government has launched Nekara Samman Yojane, under which financial aid of Rs 2,000 will be transferred to handloom weavers . A sum of Rs10.96 crore has been allocated towards this. The government has approved to transfer funds to more than 37,000 weavers across the state. This apart, loans of weavers have also been waived up to a certain amount. "When that is the case, procuring sarees will be an additional financial burden," said the official.

After confirmed cases of bird flu were reported in Kottayam and Alappuzha in Kerala, the Dakshina Kannada district administration on Thursday banned the entry of vehicles carrying poultry and related products into the district.

Upper caste youths attack Dalit man, mom

Cow steps on maize laid out for drying, upsets family; Policemen deployed to prevent flare-up

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chikkamagaluru

A Dalit man and his mother were allegedly assaulted by four youths belonging to an upper caste at Hadihalli village over a petty reason – a cow belonging to the Dalit family stepped on maize corn laid out for drying in front of the house of an upper caste family.

The incident occurred at 7.30 pm on Tuesday, and a case was lodged on Wednesday.

Siddamma and her son Poornesh sustained serious injuries in the attack and were admitted to Malle Gowda General Hospital in Chikkamagaluru.

Sources said the caste family had harvested maize crop and stocked up the produce near the house. Poornesh was bringing his herd of cattle back home. However, one cow changed its direction and walked on maize corn near the house. Angered over this, the upper caste youths quarrelled with him, and broke open the back door of the Dalit house.

The youths barged into the house and dragged the Dalit woman and her son out of the house and allegedly beat them black and blue.

Grim Situation

The situation at the village was grim. Deputy SP Prabhu visited the village and gathered details of the incident. Police also deployed personnel to prevent any untoward incident. Taluk social welfare officer Revanna visited the hospital where the mother and son were admitted, and collected information on the atrocity. The accused are Vinay, Bharath, Parvathegowda and Manjegowda. Meanwhile, pro-Dalit organisations have decided to stage a protest, and Dalit leaders have urged the administration to take legal action on the assaulters. They also urged the district police officer to banish the accused.

"The situation is under control. I have visited the spot and monitored the situation. We have registered a case," Prabhu said. Nobody has so far been arrested. Chikkamagaluru Rural police registered a case under the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Amendment Act.

File affidavit on Disaster Act, HC tells CS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

NOTING that the state has failed to establish a State Disaster Response Fund and District Disaster Mitigation Fund even 13 years after the Disaster Management Act came into force, the Karnataka High Court on Thursday directed the Chief Secretary to file an affidavit over implementation of the Act in true letter and spirit.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum passed the order after hearing a PIL filed by A Mallikarjuna from Tumakuru.

The bench noted that the state has substantially failed to implement Section 48 of the Disaster Management Act by establishing the required funds, notwithstanding several orders passed by the court from July 2019.

On the response filed by the state government, the bench said that it was admitted position that the state government has not established the State Disaster Response Fund and District Disaster Mitigation Fund.

Panel to suggest radical reforms

THE previous Karnataka Administrative Reforms Commission under Haranahalli Ramaswamy, had made 256 recommendations in December 2001. Of these, 234 were accepted to be implemented. But two decades later, there is a need to look at this afresh, considering the changes in the recent times, the order said.

The circular, signed by Deputy Secretary Swarnalatha M Bhandare, DPAR, said the new ARC will look at the reconstitution of departments where necessary, review the strength of government staff and make appropriate recommendations, examine government positions as far as jobs are concerned if they have become redundant due to the adoption of technology.

The commission will also review the administration of the various government enterprises/boards/corporations and suggest radical reforms, the order said.

It will have to submit an interim report in one year and a final report in two years. Despite the financial situation, the government will bear the administrative expenses of the commission, it added.

Cash scheme for Brahmin brides causes political stir

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Opposition on Thursday slammed the State government for its Arundathi and Maithreyi schemes for the Brahmin bride and her family, saying that priority should be given to providing basic amenities, instead of taking up such initiatives.

The Karnataka State Brahmin Development Board has announced the Arundathi scheme under which the family of a bride from economically weaker sections will get Rs 25,000 in aid. Under Maithreyi, the board offers Rs 3 lakh to the bride if she marries an archak. This has been criticised widely, with the Opposition saying that if the government wants to uplift the community, it should focus on education and empowerment of women.

KPCC Working President Eshwar Khandre told TNIE that the Congress is not against the government helping people from economically weaker sections, but going by its present financial status, the State needs to take up schemes and initiatives on priority. Khandre said that thousands of houses collapsed during floods, farmers are in distress, teachers are not getting salaries, health workers need to be empowered and Kalyana Karnataka region has been totally neglected. Works and schemes announced in the budget have not been implemented. "I don't know what is their intention behind announcing such community-based programmes. I can see political agenda and nothing else," he added.

> I don't know what is their intention behind announcing such community-based programmes. I can see political agenda and nothing else
> Eshwar Khandre, KPCC Working President

Another Congress leader said the BJP is ridiculing the community with such schemes. "There are many ways to empower people who are in distress -- let them give loans and improve their financial status. This is not going to work. If we say something, they will brand us anti-Brahmin. We are not against them, but some sensible schemes should be implemented," he said.

Kerala poultry vehicles banned in DK district

Vehicles entering Karnataka to be sprayed with disinfectant; poultry farm owners told to keep farms clean

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

AFTER confirmed cases of bird flu were reported in Kottayam and Alappuzha in Kerala, the Dakshina Kannada district administration on Thursday banned the entry of vehicles carrying poultry and related products into the district. The order also stated that all vehicles carrying poultry products from Karnataka to Kerala and Kerala vehicles coming to the state for poultry products will be sprayed with disinfectants at the inter-state borders. Vehicles that are not clean will be sent back.

The departments of Health and Animal Husbandry are keeping a close watch on bird sanctuaries, water storage units and poultry farms in Dakshina Kannada district. Owners of poultry farms have been asked to maintain cleanliness and avoid unnecessary movement of people near the farms. They have been asked to immediately inform the veterinary department in case they see unnatural deaths of poultry and symptoms of bird flu.

Measures have also been taken to spray disinfectants on vehicles that visit poultry farms and railway brake vans that transport poultry products.

Crows found dead, sent for testing

Six crows were found dead in Manjanadi near Deralakatte in Mangaluru city on Tuesday and Wednesday. On Thursday morning, viscera samples of the crows were sent for testing to a laboratory in Bengaluru.

Dr Minhaj Alam, joint secretary, Ministry of Food Processing Industries, and Dr S K Singh, director, National Centre for Disease Control will meet Collector M Anjana as part of the visit. They would support the health department in its efforts to prevent the spread of the disease to humans.

Four birds found dead in Chikkaballapur

V VELAYUDHAM @Chikkaballapur

FOUR birds including, two migratory water birds, were found dead at Gopalakrishna Ammane Kere in Chikkaballapur on Thursday. However, as per preliminary reports, it was not due to bird flu. Officials are waiting for the final reports from the Institute of Animal Health & Veterinary Biologicals in Bengaluru.

One of the birds that was found in Chikkaballapur

Two black-winged stilts were found dead while a red wattled lapwing and a green winged teal were found to be very sick. Veterinarians sent the four birds to Bengaluru under the supervision of Chikkaballapur Deputy Commissioner R Latha. The other two birds died on the way. According to veterinarians, the black winged stilts are migratory birds and came from Northern Europe. The red wattled lapwing and green winged teal are native to the country.

Speaking to TNIE, the DC said, "There are nearly 1,500 birds at Gopalakrishna Ammane Kere. Several migratory birds come to the lake in season. The preliminary reports indicate that the birds may have died due to an infection caused due to roundworms." The DC asked the people in the district to not panic.

WILDLIFE AT RISK

NH-948 turns death trap for leopards

MEERA BHARDWAJ
@ Bengaluru

TWO leopards have died in road kills recently on National Highway-948, on the outskirts of Bengaluru.

This road that traverses from Kanakapura to Dindigul (Tamil Nadu) has become a virtual death trap for leopards when they cross the road in Sathnur Range. This range in Ramanagaram territorial division has a healthy population of leopards, elephants and sloth bears. The state forest department has intimated to the authorities concerned to take necessary action for mitigation measures on this highway.

This national highway traversing Kanakapura-Sathanur-Malavalli-Kollegal has seen frequent road kills of varied wildlife species. On January 3 at 6.30 pm, a six-year-old leopard was knocked down by a speeding car on this highway, while on December 17, another leopard died just 100 metres away on the same stretch. Both the road kills happened near Thotahalli Gate, Sathanur range, Kanakapura taluk, Ramanagaram territorial division.

Prashanth H M, former honorary wildlife warden of Ramanagaram district, said, "This 3km stretch has become a death trap for crossing leopards. The authorities have to take immediate mitigation measures. There is a need for installing signboards and speed breakers to check speeding vehicles and educate people about wildlife crossings. Further, action should be taken against vehicles causing road kills in an area that is a pristine habitat for leopards and sloth bears."

Speaking to TNIE, PCCF (Wildlife) Ajay Mishra said, "Action has already been initiated on this issue in the aftermath of the second road kill. I have asked both Bengaluru and Ramanagaram district forest authorities to inform the PWD and other authorities to install speed breakers on NH-948 as also put signages on this stretch so as to prevent any further kills on this road."

Home to leopards, bears and elephants and prey population, Sathanur Range comprises scrub and deciduous forests and it is an undulating terrain. This stretch of 104 sq km from Ramdevarabetta Vulture Sanctuary to Sathnur and Malavalli is a bear country with a good elephant and leopard population. Activists have been making efforts for declaration of this area as a protected area.

Palike contractor ends life

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A 61-year-old Class 1 contractor allegedly committed suicide at the Rajkumar Indoor Stadium in Mahalakshmi Layout on Thursday. Police suspect that the deceased, V Krishnam Raju, was upset over pending bills amounting to nearly Rs 5 crore. He was a resident of Kodandaramapura.

A senior police officer said Raju's body was discovered early morning, hanging in a room on the first floor of the stadium. "No suicide note was found, but family members claimed that Raju was depressed since he had outstanding loans and was awaiting payment of pending bills from BBMP. However, the exact reason is yet to be ascertained," police said.

K T Manjunath, president of BBMP Karyanirata Guttigedarara Sangha, said Raju had executed many projects for the civic body for several years, in Rajajinagar, Malleswaram and Govindarajanagar. He alleged that many contractors are under financial distress as the BBMP has not cleared their dues.

"Last October, we had threatened to stop all civic works across the city. Then, BBMP Commissioner N Manjunath Prasad had assured us that bills would be cleared in a phased manner," he said.

Commissioner Prasad was not available for comment. Mahalakshmi Layout police took up a case of unnatural death.

Sasikala likely to be released on January 27

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

VK Sasikala, the one-time confidante of former Chief Minister J Jayalalithaa, is likely to be released from prison on January 27, her counsel informed the Madras High Court on Thursday. The submission was made while seeking adjournment of an appeal, moved by the Income Tax department, challenging the assessment filed by Sasikala for the financial year 1994-95.

The issue pertains to the I-T returns, filed by Sasikala for the assessment year 1994-95, for ₹28.86 lakh. Subsequently, a raid conducted by the Directorate of Vigilance and Anti-Corruption (DVAC) had found that she had suppressed information on the purchase of 80 acres of land, during the assessment year. Based on the DVAC report, the I-T department had passed an order, dated March 14, 2002, demanding tax to the tune of ₹48 lakh. Sasikala had challenged it before the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (ITAT), which quashed the order. The department has moved the present appeal in the high court, challenging the tribunal's order.

When the plea came up for hearing before a division bench of Justices M Duraiswamy and TV Tamilselvi, Sasikala's counsel submitted that the case be adjourned after January 27, as she was likely to be released by then, so that they would be able to get instructions directly from her. They also pointed out a circular issued by the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT), dated September 8, 2019, which directs the I-T department not to appeal in cases, which are valued below ₹1 crore.

The bench, recording the submissions, sought reply from the I-T department's counsel, TR Senthil Kumar, who said that it had no objection for the adjournment. The plea was posted to February 4 for further hearing.

ISRO SCIENTIST TAPAN MISHRA'S FACEBOOK POST ILL-TIMED?

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

SENIOR scientist and adviser Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) Tapan Mishra's claim that he was poisoned with arsenic trioxide on May 23, 2017, when he was in a promotional interview at ISRO headquarters in Bengaluru, has come at a time when India is smarting under China's recent space conquest and the former's failed landing component of Chandrayaan-2 mission in September 2019. China's Chang'e-5 returned to earth last month with 4.4 pounds of precious lunar material, which has signalled China's growing supremacy in the international space programme.

Tapan Mishra

Mishra's claim of an "espionage embedded in the government set up" to remove scientists, who are handling critical and sensitive projects, is an "attack on the image of India's apex space research organization at a time when the country is aiming to secure the fourth place to achieve a soft landing on the Moon, and boost its credentials as a low-cost space power after Russia, the US and China," said sources.

Sources on condition of anonymity said that Mishra survived brain cancer and has undergone intensive chemotherapy. "The presence of arsenic trioxide, which is an anti-cancer drug, could be because of the chemotherapy," said sources. In his post – 'Long kept secret' on Facebook, he did mention that Kiran Kumar (former ISRO chairman) tried his best to convince me that my earlier case of squamous cell carcinoma is resurrecting."

But Mishra insisted that he was "poisoned with the help of local, inside support" when he was in a closed-door meeting along with the then chairman, ISRO, A S Kiran Kumar, and the incumbent Chairman K Sivan. "It was one of the most secure and safe places to be in and yet I was poisoned. It cannot be an outsider hand without the local, inside support. I want the government to investigate the attack on scientists, who are handling critical and sensitive projects," he said. Mishra added that he knew who could be behind his poisoning but refused to divulge any details.

Mishra, known as the key spy sat maker, was removed as director, Space Application Centre, Ahmedabad, in July 2018 and was appointed as senior adviser to ISRO Chairman by Sivan after alleged differences over privatization issues. Mishra, who has been credited for his contribution in making synthetic aperture radars – Risat and Cartosat -- that are of strategic scientific, military and commercial importance, continued to stay in Ahmedabad even after being posted as senior adviser. He is due to retire this month-end.

Meanwhile, ISRO scientists refused to comment on this issue.

One-point centre for mails getting ready

ENS @Bengaluru

There will be speedy dissemination of letters and parcels soon as a massive Transshipment Centre is being readied by the Karnataka Postal Circle, said Sharda Sampath, Chief Postmaster General, Karnataka Postal Circle, on Thursday. Taking part in an event to launch a book, 'Buddhism on Stamps', authored by retired IFS officer Logeshwar Rao, at the GPO, Sharda Sampath said, "The Transshipment Centre, coming up on 3 acres of land at Devanahalli, is expected to be completed by March-end. Trucks would exchange the mails here without entering the city, thereby saving time and avoiding unnecessary movement." The centre will have a rest house for drivers and staffers, she added.

This is part of a nationwide Road Transport Network for transportation of parcels by the postal department. "Apart from Bengaluru, such centres are being set up in Delhi, Mumbai, Kolkata and Nagpur," she said.

Sandalwood drugs case: Cops grill granite businessman

Bengaluru: CCB sleuths on Thursday grilled Shivaprakash alias Chippi (46), who was the A 1 accused in the Sandalwood drugs case. Chippi, who runs a granite business, is into film-making as well. He was on the run after an FIR was registered against him and others in Cottonpet police station on September 2020. Chippi was a very close friend of actor Ragini Dwivedi, who was also arrested in the case. A police officer said that soon after the FIR was registered, Chippi applied for anticipatory bail, and a month ago, the Supreme Court had issued an interim order directing the CCB officials not to take any action against him. "Chippi was interrogated more than four hours by the investigating officer, Police Inspector Puneeth Kumar, and he claimed that he has no any connection with the drugs case," the officer added. ENS

Radhika Kumaraswamy to appear before CCB today for questioning

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A day after Kannada film actor Radhika Kumaraswamy clarified her contact with conman Yuvaraj Swamy, CCB sleuths on Thursday issued her summons to again appear for questioning. She has been asked to appear before the police on Friday.

During investigation, the CCB had found that 52-year-old Swamy was operating around 47 accounts, to one of which he had transferred Rs 15 lakh.

On Wednesday, CCB had questioned Raviraj, brother of Radhika, for his alleged financial links to Swamy, and later Radhika spoke to the media and claimed that the money was part of the remuneration she received to act in an upcoming movie. However, such a big amount being paid to the actor, with no agreement raised some questions. Hence, the CCB summoned her to record her statement.

Swamy, who claims to be an astrologer and vaastu expert, has links with Kannada film personalities and senior politicians.

He was arrested by the CCB on December 16. He had falsely claimed that he is very close to Central ministers and also promised that he could get any kind of government work done.

WHAT DEMAGOGUERY & IGNORANCE CAN DO TO A MIGHTY NATION

The United States of America just about managed to retrieve itself from the brink. Joe Biden's 302-232 win in the US Congress against the outgoing Donald Trump team may have come as a huge sigh of relief for a kind of global polity. Not just in Washington DC, which is, almost unimaginably, still under curfew. Democratic-minded people across the world are invested in this. A siege of the famed Capitol Hill of the 'world's oldest democracy' is a rather unprecedented and shocking level of mayhem, which does get described by the toll of four dead and a few more injured.

That we live in unusual times, what with the pandemic, need not be restated. But the unsettling effect on the 'developed world' is not something we have seen before. Just how much a virus has unspooled the established world order, as obtained from the last century, is a revelation that must be read with the scenes of those mobs. A semblance of order was restored, and a Biden victory decisively certified. A relatively sobered Trump thereafter conceded defeat and agreed to an 'orderly transition' on January 20, when Biden will formally take over as POTUS. It came with trademark Trumpisms though—on how 'facts bore out' the reasons why he 'disagreed with the outcome of the elections'. Or him calling the rioters as "very special", the fact that there were ones who were still mesmerised by Trumpism, still willing to believe that his first term was the 'greatest' in US history! That politics clearly lives. The speculation now is whether he would run again in 2024.

Whether Biden and Kamala Harris can bring America and its foreign policy out of the chaos of the Trump era, only time will show. But for the world and for democracy itself, today's events in America are a lesson, an illustration of what a combination of demagoguery and ignorance can do to even a mighty nation. And that what we need to come out of this is, again, simply, a belief in democracy.

LOADS OF CHALLENGES FOR DMK LEADERSHIP

Tamil Nadu's main opposition, the DMK, reportedly inviting AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owaisi for an event this month and the subsequent denial following discontent among the home-grown Muslim allies and outrage on social media has showed the chinks in the armour of its reasonably tight rank-and-file. DMK minority wing chief D Mastan reportedly flew to Hyderabad along with AIMIM's TN unit chief Vakeel Ahmed last week to invite Owaisi. But Mastan was quick to term this as "fake news" after the outrage.

It's not just this incident. Even the DMK leadership's mode of campaigning has been causing a lot of discomfort among its cadre. Party chief M K Stalin has been banking more on video campaigns to address people. While this helped the leadership reach the cadre during the thick of the pandemic, it may want to reboot its strategy now that political parties have begun coming out of the virtual and are getting real with their campaign trails. The latest talking point has been Stalin's no-show in Pettavaithalai, a village on the Tiruchy-Karur border, where hundreds of DMK supporters were kept waiting for over four hours, only to be disappointed when the party chief reportedly moved past the venue without so much as a wave. What was even more of a political eyesore was the women dancers the cadre had got to perform "item numbers" to keep the crowd engaged till Stalin arrived. People who came for the meeting were disappointed by the party's fall from grace, saying this "obscenity on stage" would never have happened during the time of the late DMK chief, M Karunanidhi. In contrast, CM Edappadi K Palaniswami of the AIADMK has been making a concerted attempt to connect with farmers, self-help groups and the youth by holding impromptu chats with them during his campaign trips. Even political greenhorn Kamal Haasan's Makkal Needhi Maiam has been holding roadshows.

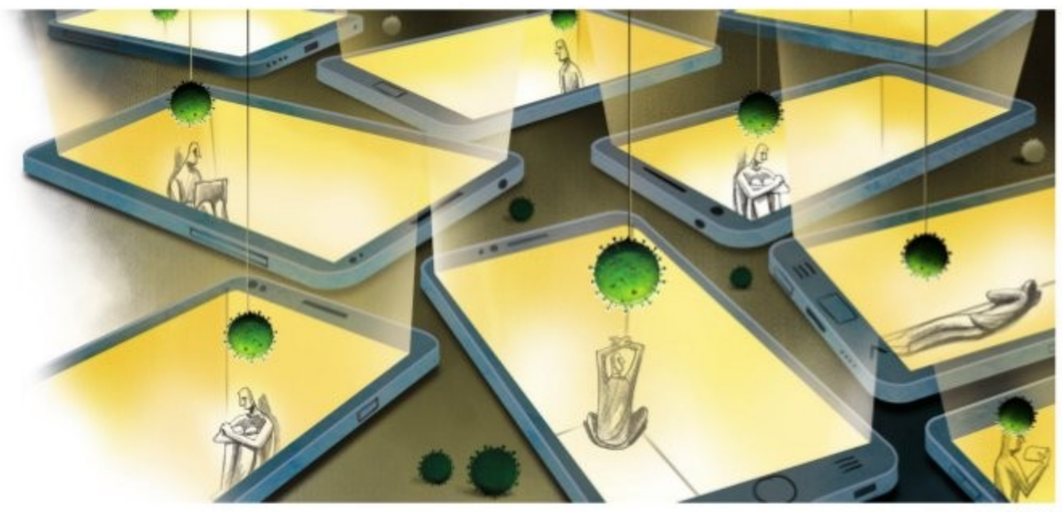
The DMK still has time to pull up its socks. The elections are a few months away and Stalin needs to seriously reconsider his mode of campaigning if he truly wants to capitalise on his position as the opposition party leader and work towards the possible anti-incumbency factor.

During and after previous devastations, hands joined together to mend the world and life bounced back. But this time, both 'hands' and 'together' are viewed as dark messengers of death

WHEN HUMAN BONDING IS SPLINTERED

JAWHAR SIRCAR

Retired civil servant. Former Culture Secretary and ex-CEO, Prasar Bharati



AMIT BANDRE

After the unending months of 2020, we now feel a bit relieved as we assume, with or without basis, that the worst may be over. As we click the pause button, it may be appropriate to attempt an interim appraisal of the effects and the devastation caused by a microscopic mass-murdering virus.

Day after day, we had noted with palpitations as casualties mounted, but now we discover that the toll in India of around 1.5 lakh is the same that we lose to accidents or respiratory diseases or stroke each year. In fact, it is actually less than one-fourth the number killed annually by heart disease or deadly cancer. But then, this Chitragupta-style of reporting to Yamraj about the relative strike rate of his gruesome weapons is not quite a pleasant task. And the fact that the world's most advanced nation fared much worse than us is certainly not a valid reason for even muted schadenfreude.

Those who take a more magisterial view of life have noted with alarm how 'sociability', the very pillar that holds up the human race, was attacked mercilessly by the virus. Its long-term impact may be worse than just death figures. The crux of this apprehension is that if 'social distancing' and 'work from home' are here to stay, our human engineering may need complete rewiring. History tells us that the desperate need to survive against all odds, especially in the face of much more powerful carnivores, led our hominid ancestral cousins, Homo erectus, to form hunters' groups—some 18 lakh years ago.

Since then, there was no turning back—as the human family evolved from being the hunted into the hunter. This induced our forefathers to aggregate in ever-increasing numbers, to band together for hunting and share the life-saving meat of jointly killed animals. As Louis Liebenberg has demonstrated in his seminal essay in the 'Journal of Human Evolution' titled 'The relevance of persistence hunting to human evolution' (2008), it was this community bonding that ensured that humanoids survived. Of the latter, our species, the Homo sapiens, proved most adaptable and innovative and hence we advanced, while all other analogous lines became extinct. Many feel that the subsequent adoption of vegetarianism is really an evolutionary improvement. What everyone agrees on is that 'pure vegetarian food' is surely India's invaluable gift to the world, like yoga and zero.

For these 18 lakh years, inter-human communication and team-cooperation have been our primary binders and it is this community core that the virus hit the most. Though segregation of the infected has been practised earlier during epidemics like the more deadly plague, never before have so many countries of the world been infected simultaneously and 'locked down' together. Scourges come and go, but this Covid-driven atomisation of human society is viewed as more devastating than the calamities that rocked us in the twentieth century. We lost 30 crore people to smallpox, nearly 8 crore died during the Spanish flu of 1918-20 and a similar shocking number perished in the Second World War. During and after these devastations, hands joined together to mend the world and life bounced back. But this time, both 'hands' and 'together' are viewed as dark messengers of death and every person is suspect.

> One noted with concern, long before Covid had arrived, that physical proximity was being trampled upon by virtual communication. The character of social bonding was altered beyond redemption

We may, however, need to ponder further before declaring that Covid marks the end of the world we were born into. This world had already started 'ending' a decade ago, when faster internet connectivity and the smartphone took over. One noted with concern, long before Covid had arrived, that physical proximity was surely being trampled upon by virtual communication. The character of social bonding was altered beyond redemption. In every social gathering, we noticed how after a few moments of culture-induced bonhomie, even the best of friends or the closest of family members simply looked away from each other. They were totally engrossed elsewhere—with their mobiles. Lockdowns actually restored, to some extent, closeness within the much-neglected family or immediate groups, as everyone pooled in with basic chores and living rooms became livelier. Since work became site-agnostic and menial help was blocked out, many young and terribly busy persons went back to their parents, who double-doted on them because they had hardly ever got them so close for so long.

Bruce Daisley, author of 'The Joy of Work', has discussed 'personal satisfaction' in the context of jobs and challenges, while anthropologist James Suzman looks differently. In his 'Work: A History of How We Spend Our Time', Suzman emphasises that keeping ourselves occupied is more essential for retaining sanity than labour-saving, productivity-obsessed technologies. Basically, we now have certain critical issues to ponder, in the context of Covid-imposed and digitally driven fragmentation of human society. Can the scattered 'new normal' substitute the warmth of the primal 'hunting group' and its worthy successors? Will the virtual world and its task/accomplishment fixation be able to satisfy the basic craving of humans for company and relaxation? Would these dispersed humans be able to avoid the disastrous effects of anomie and depression that afflict those who de-link from emotionally essential 'social solidarity' groups? Only time will tell us how adroitly this distanced but digitally united universe tackles these concerns by reinventing itself.

SERVING THE MOTHERLAND FROM A DISTANCE

VINAY SAHASRABUDDHE

President, ICCR, and BJP Rajya Sabha MP

Since January 2000, the Government of India has been regularly holding conventions of Non-Resident Indians (NRIs) while observing Pravasi Bharatiya Divas. The then prime minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee instituted this day. This year too, on January 8, such a convention is being held, albeit in a virtual format. The idea of instituting a day for NRIs was mooted by a high-level committee set up by the Vajpayee government under the chairmanship of the late L M Singhvi. Vajpayee accepted this recommendation and from then on, such conventions have been regularly held. Being organised biennially these days, deliberations at every such convention are woven around a particular theme. Besides, at every convention, some renowned NRIs who have made a mark in their country of residence are recognised through Pravasi Bharatiya Awards.

India could easily be one of the first five countries from where people have migrated in huge numbers. Unlike in other cultures, we greatly value our motherland in India and even consider the same as superior to the heavens. Every NRI, at least initially, goes abroad with a genuine desire to return to the motherland sooner than later. 'Next Diwali in India' remains a refrain in the families of NRIs, for several early years. Considering the uniqueness of Indian culture—the charms of family and community life in India included—the almost perennial longing to go back to Mother India is perfectly understandable. A majority of NRIs find it difficult to actually come back to India for multiple reasons. However, that never diminishes their affection towards their motherland.

Here comes the relevance of finding ways and means of serving the cause of the motherland even from a distance. Thousands of NRIs get involved in some organisation or community activity and thereby try to overcome their very deep sense of 'India-sickness'. Secondly, in myriad ways, many also try to get associated with some particular cause linked closely to serving the deprived sections of Indian society.

But to serve the cause of India, NRIs can in fact go just a little extra in their respective country of residence and help the process of evolving a greater and deeper understanding of India or the idea of it. India is welcomed by almost all countries in the world. There is a fair amount of curiosity about our nation. India also enjoys lots of goodwill among the global community almost universally. But curiosity and goodwill, although important, are not enough. This fund of goodwill has created a fertile ground for India to make efforts and help evolve a proper understanding about the country and the idea of it as well. A developing country of our size just cannot afford to have a large section of the global community oblivious to its past, present and future. Therefore, more concerted and structured efforts on the part of NRIs to do away with misperceptions about India are urgently needed.

In modern days, perception building happens through the media, academia and civil society. Sadly, in all these three sectors, NRIs have not been adequately influential in most developed nations. As a consequence, Indian culture and also its people continue to be misperceived. India is not just another country. It is not just the largest but also one of the most vibrant democracies of the world. And yet, the democracy in India continues to be underrated. Diversity in India too is often misconstrued. For various reasons, it is hard for even academics abroad to understand the fact that diversity in India is in fact nothing more than diverse manifestations of India's innate oneness or unity. For many years, even in the recent past, economists found it difficult to appreciate that India is neither socialist nor capitalist, but essentially centrist. Unlike many other countries, India is not easy to understand. More importantly, it is an experience. Opinions of many visiting foreign dignitaries about India have undergone a sea change after their first visits. It is for this reason that NRIs should think about more effective ways and means to contribute to this 'Mission Understand India'.

> Indian culture and also its people continue to be misperceived globally. India is not just another country. It is not just the largest but also one of the most vibrant democracies of the world. And yet, our democracy continues to be underrated.... Concerted efforts on the part of NRIs to do away with misconceptions about our country are urgently needed

To those foreigners who love India, India also means our civilisational values. But, from unity in diversity to our unique way of relating with Mother Nature and thereby internalising sustainable development as an approach, Indian values do not effectively reflect in the conduct of NRIs. Internal squabbles—both inter-organisational and intra-organisational—among the NRI community groups are unfortunately extremely commonplace. NRIs, often touted as our cultural ambassadors, do a great disservice to their motherland when they fail to rise above their linguistic or social prejudices.

To cut a long story short, the roles and responsibilities of NRIs need to be revisited and restated in the context of India as an emerging soft power. Soft power is about influencing the thinking and acquiring mind space. NRIs themselves are a great soft power. Cultivating a deeper understanding about India's potential to emerge as a super soft power is the first step. With people in several parts of the world still struggling with what they call multiculturalism, India's success in creating one indivisible national mind is something very unique. NRIs can very well appreciate this, understand it and then try to use the lessons learnt in the countries of their current residence. For any diaspora group to become effective, it has to work and be seen as a value-addition community and if NRIs are able to reach that level, it will be a great way of serving the motherland!

China fails to come clean

China's refusal to allow the WHO expert team to probe the origin of the coronavirus casts a shadow on that country's attempts to come clean on the issue. (WHO rebukes China over blocking virus probe team, Jan 7). If the virus hadn't indeed emerged from Chinese laboratories, why is Beijing reluctant to permit the team to investigate the matter?

Odisha quota move laudable

The Kerala animal husbandry department has decided to cull around 46,000 birds in Alappuzha and Kottayam as they fall within a one-kilometer radius of the epicentre of the bird flu infection. Though the department says the avian flu virus is not very dangerous, it caused the deaths of around 25,000 ducks. There is also a chance that the disease might spread from birds to humans.

Landmark HC observation

The observation of the Kerala HC that a first-time offender in a theft case need not be sent to jail in all situations is a landmark one. It is a matter of concern that such offenders, when remanded to prison, are not segregated from notorious criminals. So they tend to face threats from hardcore criminals. When such petty thieves come out of jail, they have no option but to join criminal gangs. I hope the government will come up with a suitable legislation in this regard.

Farmers on tractors participate in a rally against the new farm laws at Kundli-Manesar-Palwal Expressway in Haryana on Thursday | SHEKHAR YADAV

Sea of tractors touches capital from two sides ahead of talks

At least 5,000 tractors with over 10,000 farmers descended on two peripheral expressways

GAYATHRI MANI & HARPREET BAJWA @ New Delhi/Chandigarh

EQUIPPED with Google maps and contact details of points-persons appointed to guide them, thousands of farmers in tractor-trolleys descended on the Eastern and Western Peripheral Expressways on the outskirts of the national capital on Thursday in a dress rehearsal of 'tractor parade' planned on Republic Day.

At least 5,000 tractors with over 10,000 farmers took part in the rally on the arc-shaped Kundli-Ghaziabad-Palwal (Eastern) and Kundli-Manesar-Palwal (Western) expressways. The show of strength came a day before the government and the farmers' unions sit for eighth round of talks.

The rally was taken out from four different points — Singhu to Tikri border, Tikri to Kundli, Ghazipur to Palwal and Rewasan to Palwal. The farmers camping at Singhu and Tikri borders entered the expressway from Kundli and Sampla, respectively. Both the groups met midway before returning to their bases. The farmers protesting at Ghazipur border met the group from Rewasan in Palwal, Haryana, and returned to their camps.

Interestingly, the rally on KMP Expressway was joined by a large number of farmers and youngsters from Haryana. Both at Singhu and Tikri borders, it's the farmers from Punjab who are leading the stir.

Farmers and youngsters were also seen in cars and jeeps. At the KMP crossing, the volunteers continuously made announcements and alerted the farmers to drive in a lane.

"The rally was peaceful and was even more successful than expected. We had expected only 500-600 tractors from Haryana but 2,500 came. The farmers from near Delhi joined the rally," said Paramjeet Singh Katyal of Samyukta Kisan Morcha.

Farmers will gain from freight corridor, India will develop rapidly:PM

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Western Dedicated Freight Corridor is a "game changer" for India in the 21st century, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said, after inaugurating the 306-km Rewari-Madar section of the corridor on Thursday.

Some 79 km of this section of the corridor is situated in Mahendragarh and Rewari districts of Haryana and approximately 227 km in Rajasthan's Jaipur, Ajmer, Sikar, Nagaur, and Alwar districts.

"The dedicated freight corridors, be it eastern or western, are not just the modern routes for the modern goods trains but are also the corridors of the country's rapid development," he said. "These corridors will also form the basis for the development of new growth centres and growth points in different cities in the country."

He said the western corridor will bring new opportunities to farmers, industrialists and traders in the National Capital Region, Haryana and Rajasthan. The corridor will cover 133 railway stations in nine states. At these stations, new multi-modal logistics parks, freight terminals, container depots and parcel hubs will also come up.

'These will benefit farmers, small industries, cottage industries and big manufacturers,' Modi added.

Using the railway analogy, the PM said the infrastructure work is going on two tracks simultaneously in the country. "In last ten to twelve days, several projects have been dedicated to the nation and over ₹18,000 cr been directly transferred into accounts of farmers with the help of digital infrastructure...," he said.

SC wary of Markaz repeat in pandemic

NEW DELHI: Expressing concern over the health of farmers amid the Covid pandemic, the Supreme Court asked the Centre to issue guidelines for such large gatherings to avoid a repeat of the Tablighi Jamaat's Markaz fiasco.

A bench headed by CJI S A Bobde issued a notice seeking the Centre's reply within two weeks. "This same problem is going to arise during the farmer protest. We do not know if farmers are being protected from Covid. What guidelines have you issued for prevention of such things?" it asked Solicitor General Tushar Mehta.

The top court was hearing a PIL seeking a probe by the CBI into the Jamaat gathering and stressed on having guidelines to prevent such events from causing harm to public health at the time of the pandemic.

"Have you learnt from your experience in handling this (Jamaat) event? Have you found out how it happened?" the bench questioned Mehta.

Farmers have been protesting over a month at Delhi's borders against the three farm laws enacted by the Centre.

Mehta told the bench that the investigation into the Jamaat gathering was still on. He added that Covid guidelines with regard to large gatherings were in place and sought two weeks to file a reply.

The Jamaat was in the headlines last year when authorities blamed the gathering at its headquarters in Delhi for the jump in Covid infections.On its part, the Jamaat had maintained many visitors at its Nizamuddin markaz were stranded after the government declared a lockdown. ENS

Sonia strikes balancing act before Congress prez poll

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

CONGRESS chief Sonia Gandhi has done a fine balancing act in the recent organisational revamp and new appointments in central and state units to avoid a chasm between old and young leaders.

With the party preparing to hold presidential elections by next month, the long overdue organisational revamp has started to put up a team of old and young leaders for ensuring smooth functioning of the new party chief. There are already talks of return of Rahul Gandhi as party chief, who till recently was unwilling to lead the party.

On Wednesday, it announced senior observers for upcoming assembly elections in which some members of the 'dissenter' group found place. Party general secretary Mukul Wasnik and former union minister M Veerappa Moily were named as observers in Assam and Tamil Nadu and Puducherry, respectively.

Team Rahul members and MPs B Manickam Tagore, A Chellakumar and S Jothimani found place in the revamp of the Tamil Nadu Congress Committee which also has veterans P Chidambaram and Mani Shankar Aiyar.

Also part of the committee is Karti Chidambaram, the MP from Sivaganga in Tamil Nadu, who criticised the formation of a "jumbo panel" in the state.

A similar balance was seen in Rajasthan, where the Ashok Gehlot-led party government spent some anxious time as Sachin Pilot nearly exited from the party with his loyalists.

According to party sources, some more organisational changes are expected in coming days in state units and a balance will be maintained to ensure both old and young Turks are on board.

OVERHAUL IN RAJASTHAN UNIT

Nearly six months after it was dissolved during the political crisis after Sachin Pilot's revolt, the Rajasthan Pradesh Congress Committee (PCC) was reconstituted with the appointment of seven vice-presidents, eight general secretaries and 24 secretaries. The AICC struck a balance between the rival camps led by Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and Pilot. Both the CM and Pilot congratulated the new office-bearers and took to Twitter to convey their best wishes to the new PCC team.

'JUDICIARY & EXECUTIVE NEED BETTER COORDINATION'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

STRESSING the need of striking a balance between judiciary and executive, former President Pranab Mukherjee has stated in his memoir, 'The Presidential Years', that proper coordination between the two stakeholders will avoid judicial activism.

"In our democratic concept, I feel that judges, especially of the higher judiciary, do not generally interact with other stakeholders. A certain distance has to be maintained, given the judiciary's role in adjudicating various actions of the executive," he wrote. "However, there should be more frequent interactions between the executive and the judiciary. If the CJI were to meet the PM more regularly, and similarly the Chief Justice of high courts were to interact with the respective CMs more often, a number of vexatious issues could be resolved, and the balance that is needed to be maintained between them can be achieved."

Mukherjee said that as President, he made attempts to interact with the judges. "I would invite them over for tea and photo sessions. Unfortunately, there were not enough occasions to meet them otherwise. I would see them on formal occasions, including the swearing-in ceremony of the CJI."

The book also talks about the issue of vacancies in judiciary. Mukherjee stressed on strengthening the judicial infrastructure so that justice delivery system could be made more efficient. "A lot can be said about delays in the justice delivery system but the courts, too, work under many constraints. There are not enough courtrooms and judges. The judicial infrastructure needs major expansion, which in turn requires funds. The expenditure on the judiciary comes under non-plan expenditure, and there have not been enough funds to spend in revamping the judicial infrastructure."

The primary responsibility of filling these vacancies lies with the collegium. "Inordinate delays in the appointment of judges also deny opportunities to the deserving. A judge who is appointed after his junior and thus takes oath later goes up the seniority ladder, which could adversely affect his chances of promotion...It is the responsibility of both the collegium and the government to avoid such fallacies," he wrote.

Govt's move to scrap Planning Commision was a blunder: Pranab

NEW DELHI: Former President Pranab Mukherjee did not approve of the Modi government's decision of scrapping the Planning Commission. In his autobiography, he has called the move a blunder.

Mukherjee wrote that his 2015 speech, drafted by the government, referred to the establishment of the NITI Aayog to take the place of the Planning Commission. "While I was personally not enthused by the scrapping of the Planning Commission, which had been established in 1950, I did not wish to rake up a controversy by opposing it publicly. I personally feel it was a mistake, indeed a blunder, to do away with the plan panel."

The former President mentioned that even the Planning Commission's long tenure was not without controversies. "Often, there were tiffs between the government and the plan panel, even during the Nehru era. Besides, I believe that transitions must be done in a smooth manner and with a human face."

Mukherjee said the Commission derived its strength from the Mahalanobis Model, named after famous economist P C Mahalanobis. Mahalanobis believed in state-directed investments, emphasised on heavy industries and public sector undertakings and a generally centralised economy. "While some of these concepts may sound dated today, in the early years of Independence they served the country well, since they provided our policy planners a long-term growth road map through Five-Year Plans, which the Planning Commission of India was tasked with preparing," he wrote. ENS

IAF, airlines to be roped in for vaccine transport

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

COMMERCIAL airlines as well as the Indian Air Force are being roped in to transport the vaccine vials as the government prepares to start giving the first jabs to immunize the people against Covid-19 next week, said sources.

The transportation of vaccines to different parts of the country could begin Thursday evening or Friday morning. Officials in the Union health ministry, in consultation with the National Expert Group on Vaccine Administration on Covid-19, aviation ministry and cargo operators on Thursday prepared a detailed outline for vaccine transportation.

The first vaccine vials, said officials in the health ministry, are set to be from Pune where the Serum Institute of India has manufactured the 'Covidshield' developed by Oxford University-AstraZeneca.

The Centre has planned 41 mini-hubs across the country for the distribution of vaccines, which are mostly in state capitals where they will be stored before finally being dispatched to districts.

Delhi and Karnal will be made mini-hubs for northern India while for the eastern part of the country, Kolkata and Guwahati will be the mini-hub for distribution. Guwahati will also be a nodal point for the North-east. Chennai and Hyderabad will be the designated points for south India.

Union health minister Harsh Vardhan, meanwhile, reviewed the preparedness for Covid dummy run on Friday in a virtual meeting with health ministers from the states.

MP chicken samples test bird flu positive

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bhopal/Dehradun

BIRD flu, which was felling crows in Madhya Pradesh, has spread to poultry fowls, with samples from chicken shops in Indore and Neemuch testing positive. The spread has been reported among the shikra in Khargone, and bagula (heron) birds in Khandwa districts.

According to Director Animal Husbandry, Madhya Pradesh, R K Rokde, bird flu outbreak has been detected among dead crows and other birds in eight districts, including Indore, Agar-Malwa, Neemuch, Mandsaur, Khargone, Dewas, Guna, and Khandwa.

"We have ordered the closure of all poultry and chicken stalls for a week in one-km radius of shops from where samples were found positive. Surveillance of poultry shops and farms within 10-km radius of the poultry-chicken shops concerned has been started," Rokde told TNIE. "We are now trying to ascertain the source of chicken at the stalls in Indore and Neemuch. If the chickens were locally supplied, then samples will be from a broader region. If the source is from outside the state, we will alert the governments concerned," he said.

Meanwhile, Uttarakhand banned the import of poultry products from all states affected by bird flu. Chief Minister Trivendra Singh Rawat reiterated the need to be cautious and temporarily halted any transaction in poultry products. The order follows the advisory to mount vigil in the wake of bird flu cases in neighbouring states. There are around 14,500 poultry centres across 13 districts in the state. Officials are keeping a tight watch on migratory from Russia, Iran, and other Asian countries.

Panel member shames victim in Badaun

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Lucknow

WHILE the main accused in Badaun gangrape and murder case is still on the run, a member of the National Commission for Women (NCW) — Chandramukhi Devi — courted controversy by saying that the incident could have been averted if the victim had not ventured out in the evening.

The NCW member was sent to Badaun by the Commission to meet the family members of the gang-rape victim. While addressing media persons, she said, "A woman should always be mindful of the time and should not venture out late even if she is under pressure from someone." NCW chief Rekha Sharma took to twitter to distance herself from Chandramukhi Devi's opinion. Sharma said, "women have all the right to move on their will whenever and wherever they want to". She added that it was the duty of the society and the state to make places safe for women.

Centre approves ₹28K-cr plan to draw industries

Incentives aplenty for businesses as govt aims to create job opportunities for youth

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi/Srinagar

THE Centre on Wednesday approved a ₹28,400-crore new industrial developmental scheme, paving the path for attracting investments and creating jobs for the youth in the militancy-hit Jammu and Kashmir. The Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA), headed by the Prime Minister, on Wednesday approved the proposal of Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade for Central Sector Scheme for Industrial Development of Jammu & Kashmir. The scheme will stay in force till 2037, and ₹1,123.84 crore has already been disbursed under various special packages, the government said, in a statement.

Welcoming the approval given by the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs to the Central Sector Scheme for Industrial Development of Jammu and Kashmir, Union Home Minister Amit Shah said the decision illustrates how the Union Territory holds a 'special place' in heart of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

According to CCEA, the provisions of the scheme aim at drawing both small and large units. Smaller units with an investment in plant and machinery up to ₹50 crore will get a capital incentive up to ₹7.5 crore and get capital interest subvention at the rate of 6% for a maximum of seven years. The scheme, as per the committee, has been simplified on the lines of ease of doing business by bringing one major incentive – GST Linked Incentive – that will ensure less compliance burden without compromising on transparency.

Shah said that the scheme will prove to be a boon for cottage industry, handicrafts, micro, small and medium industries of Jammu & Kashmir.

"Prime Minister Narendra Modi has started development in Jammu & Kashmir by ridding it of terrorism and separatism. It is Modiji's visionary leadership as a result of which, for the first time, a scheme is taking industrial development to the block level," Shah said.

Didi blinks, to let farmers get Central dole direct

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

UNION Agriculture Minister Narendra Singh Tomar on Wednesday wrote to Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee requesting her to depute a nodal officer so that the Centre could coordinate to implement the PM Kisan Samman Nidhi, a central scheme for farmers. Tomar's communication came a day after Mamata gave her nod to accept the central scheme and asked the Union minister to give the state government the list 21.7 lakh applicants for verification.

Bengal CM's green signal to the central scheme is said to be a calculated political move ahead of the upcoming Assembly elections at a time when the BJP high-command has been hitting out at the Bengal CM for not allowing the implementation of the Central scheme in Bengal, and assusing her of depriving the farmers of benefits under the scheme.

"By allowing the Central scheme in Bengal, Mamata leaves no opportunity to the BJP to attack the TMC-led State government on the issue of depriving farmers by hampering the Central scheme," said a senior TMC leader.

On Monday, Mamata had said she had written to the Union minister saying Bengal was ready to verify the 21.7 lakh farmer applicants who registered themselves on the Central portal. "I want farmers to get the money. If there is anything extra over and above our grants for the farmers, let them have it," she had said.

The tussle between the Centre and Mamata broke out on the issue of disbursing authority of the financial grant. The Central government wanted to transfer the grant directly to the bank accounts of the farmers while Mamata wanted to do it through her administrative machinery.

"It is a smart move. She agreed to allow the scheme at a time when the BJP is being criticised on the issue of the farm laws and the month-long protests by farmers on Delhi border. Her nod to implement the scheme in Bengal will not only blunt BJP's political weapon to target her on this issue, but also will help her own party to sharpen its attack against the saffron camp on the farm laws," said a senior bureaucrat in Mamata's government.

NADDA'S OUTREACH DRIVE IN RICE BOWL

With a view to containing Trinamool Congress' barrage in the backdrop of farmers' protest, BJP's national president JP Nadda will visit Katwa in East Burdwan district, known as Bengal's rice bowl, on January 9 and address farmers on the farm laws. Vocational training for shelter home girls

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

SELF reliance is the keyword the state government is banking on to transform the lot of girls sheltered in various care homes in Bihar. Under a new model, the government aims to make all girls at state-sponsored institutions self-reliant through vocational training by the time they turn 18.

The plan is significant as it comes in the wake of the 2018 sex scandal at a Muzaffarpur-based Girls Shelter Home.

After having sent 14 girls from the shelter homes at Begusarai, Madhubani, Patna, Mothari, and Purnia to Bengaluru and other cities for vocational training in 2020, they plan to send another batch of 30 girls to participate in a programme on hotel management. The girls would be sent to Bengaluru, among other cities, in association with the Children and Human Rights Organisations Centre for Juvenile Justice.

"Now, the second batch of 30 inmates – educated up to classes VI and VII – will be sent to Bengaluru for training on housekeeping to make them financially self reliant," the director of the department said. "The social welfare department is in touch with banks to provide them (who return after training) loans to run their own businesses through SHGs," the director added.

The stress on self-reliance is aimed at opening up avenues to the girls, who get ₹2,000 after they turn 18. The best part about the vocational training is the placement opportunities the girls get access to.

"The girls after training in various vocational courses are ensured 100 per cent placement through the hotels and institutions that train them in housekeeping," the director added.

Accident rate drops in Chhattisgarh

Chhattisgarh: The state has witnessed a 17.75 per cent drop in road accidents and a 9.13 per cent slump in accident deaths in 2020, the police said on Thursday. The number of accidents and deaths came down last year largely due to the restrictions imposed on vehicular movement during the Covid-induced lockdown and traffic management by the police, said R K Vij, Special DGP (Planning and Provisioning/ Technical Services)

Call for inner line permit gets stronger

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

THE demand for the implementation of Inner Line Permit (ILP) in Meghalaya is getting intensified. The Confederation of Meghalaya Social Organisations (CoMSO) has asked the state's 60 legislators, including Chief Minister Conrad Sangma, to go to New Delhi and hold an agitation in favour of ILP. It asked the three MPs of the state to raise the issue in the upcoming session of Parliament.

The ILP is an official document issued to allow inward travel of an Indian citizen into a protected area for a limited period. Many in the northeast view it as a shield against the illegal influx of immigrants. Currently, Nagaland, Mizoram, Arunachal Pradesh and Manipur are protected under it.

Recently, Congress MLA, PT Sawkmie, had suggested that the MLAs from the state should go to New Delhi as a team and hold an agitation demanding the ILP's implementation. The idea was backed by CoMSO. Its chairman Robertjune Kharjahrin said the legislators must pressurise the Central government to consider ILP.

The Meghalaya government set up an entry-exit point at Umling in Ri Bhoi district in December last. The road leads to Shillong. Now, various organisations are demanding similar entry-exit points in other inter-state border areas.

J&K ENCOUNTER

L-G SAYS WAIT AS DAD STICKS TO HIS DEMAND

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

THE father of a 16-year-old youth, who was among the three militants killed in an encounter at Lawaypora on the outskirts of Srinagar on December 30, has alleged that the security officials are telling lies.

Meanwhile, in his first reaction to the allegations, Lt Governor Manoj Sinha said, "Let me tell you that J&K is a very sensitive Union Territory. I have noted all the versions, including that of security forces and the families of the youth. I will come up with facts at an appropriate time."

Mushtaq Ahmad, father of 16-year-old Athar Mushtaq, said: "I again say that I want justice. The DGP and other security officials, who say that on the night of December 29 they had asked them to surrender and come out, should feel ashamed. If that were the case, they should have taken me and his mother to the spot. I swear I would have brought him to you if he were a terrorist." Army and police say three militants – Athar Mushtaq, Aijaz Ahmad Ganai, and Zubair Ahmad Lone – were killed in a two-day gunfight on the outskirts of Srinagar on December 30.

"I want an inquiry into the incident. I also want the body of my son. I have already dug a grave for my son in my ancestral graveyard. I am waiting for the body of my only son," Mushtaq said. He claimed that when Athar called his sister at 4 pm on December 29, he was in custody of troops

The families of two other youth too are demanding inquiry into the killings.

Ayodhya to learn lessons on cleanliness from Indore model

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

EVERY success story has a body of hard work behind it. Indore's enviable distinction of being the cleanest Indian city for four years on a trot under the Swachh Bharat Survekshan is a case in point, and an example worth emulating. And emulating Indore's exemplary work model would be Uttar Pradesh's pilgrimage city Ayodhya.

As part of the grand plan to transform Ayodhya into the world's top eco-friendly spiritual tourism destination, the Indian Institute of Indore (IIM-I) is partnering with the Ayodhya Municipal Corporation (AMC) to draw an action plan.

A Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) was recently been signed between the IIM-Indore Director, Prof Himanshu Rai, and Ayodhya's Municipal Commissioner Vishal Singh as the starting point for the first-of-its-kind partnership.

As per the MoU, the detailed action plan will include replication of best practices of the Indore model, with special enhancements for maintaining cleanliness standards. It will entail drafting a plan for implementation of information, education and communication as per the Swachh Bharat Mission, organising training/capacity building programme for AMC employees as well as organizing programmes in best practices for officials of AMC.

Partnership to usher in knowledge transfer

Confirming the development, Vishal Singh on Thursday told TNIE: "IIM-I being one of the best management institutions in the country, we approached them for the partnership."

BLOT ON FACE OF U.S. DEMOCRACY

Pentagon activates 6,200 National Guard members to help DC Police quell violent insurrection by Trump backers; Prez unfazed, but promises orderly transition

A horror with no precedent in American history

A mob invading the US Capitol. Police with guns drawn inside the House of Representatives. Wednesday's events had no precedent. Here's a look at how the siege of US Congress unfolded

1 PENCE BREAKS WITH TRUMP

- President Donald Trump had said all along he wanted to stop Congress from officially certifying Democrat Joe Biden's election victory on Wednesday.There was no way he could do it legally
- Trump tried. He threatened his vice president, Mike Pence, who was meant to preside over the ceremony. But Pence retorted he had no constitutional leeway

2 MOBS RUSH TO CAPITOL HILL

A mob of Trump supporters went on their mission after a final pep talk from their leader

Waving Trump's blue flags and wearing his red campaign hats, it stormed through, making it right into the Senate's debating chamber

3 SENATE PROCEEDINGS HALTED

The rioters quickly accomplished their main goal: halting the ceremony that had just got underway to certify Democrat Joe Biden's election win over Trump back in November

Security personnel drew their guns to protect lawmakers as protesters advanced. Amid chaotic and violent scenes inside the building, a woman was shot dead

Legislators were given gas masks to protect themselves against tear gas as they rushed to safety. For those fleeing, it was a race against time: Protestors were getting in as quickly as members of Congress could get out

WASHINGTON

The US Defence Department has formally activated roughly 6,200 members of the National Guard from six northeastern states to help support the Capitol Police and other law enforcement in Washington in the wake of the deadly riot Wednesday that rocked the US Capitol.

Acting Defense Secretary Christopher Miller signed orders activating the National Guard from Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland for up to 30 days. A defense official said the goal is to have Guard members help secure the US Capitol and the surrounding area through the January 20 inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

The Guard members are arriving over the next several days. A total of 6,200 have been activated, but the exact number of troops that will actually get to the city may be less than that, depending on who is available in each state. The Guard won't be armed, but will have riot gear and protective clothing, said the official.

Trump acknowledges defeat

US President Donald Trump for the first time acknowledged his defeat in the election and announced there would be an "orderly transition on January 20th" after Congress concluded the electoral vote count early Thursday certifying President-elect Joe Biden's victory.

Trump's acknowledgment came after a day of chaos and destruction on Capitol Hill as a mob of his supporters stormed the Capitol building and unleashed unprecedented scenes of mayhem as it tried to halt the peaceful transition of power. Members of Congress were forced into hiding, offices were ransacked, and the formal congressional tally halted for more than six hours.

"Even though I totally disagree with the outcome of the election, and the facts bear me out, nevertheless there will be an orderly transition on January 20th," Trump said in a statement posted to Twitter by his social media director.

His own account had been locked by the company for posting messages that appeared to justify the assault on the seat of the nation's democracy.

Trump added, "While this represents the end of the greatest first term in presidential history, it's only the beginning of our fight to Make America Great Again!" The statement was the first time Trump formally acknowledged his loss after spending the last two months refusing to concede and lobbing baseless allegations of voter fraud. Agencies

Mick Mulvaney quits diplomatic post

Mick Mulvaney, a former chief of staff in Donald Trump's White House, announced Thursday he has quit his diplomatic post to protest mob violence by the president's supporters at the Capitol. "I can't stay here, not after yesterday. You can't look at that yesterday and think I want to be a part of that in any way, shape or form," Mulvaney told CNBC television. "I can't do it. I can't stay," he told CNBC, indicating that other White House staff were eying the exits.

Four former presidents rebuke Don over attack

Slamming US President Donald Trump for inciting violence at the US Capitol, all four living former US presidents — Barack Obama, George W Bush, Bill Clinton and Jimmy Carter — have condemned the actions of pro-Trump rioters and underlined the need for a peaceful transfer of power. "History will rightly remember today's violence at the Capitol, incited by a sitting president who has continued to baselessly lie about the outcome of a lawful election, as a moment of great shame for our nation."

Trump defends riots, his cabinet discusses ousting him as Prez

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump privately defended the actions of his supporters as they stormed the US Congress building on Wednesday afternoon, senior White House aides told The Washington Post. "He kept saying: 'The vast majority of them are peaceful. What about the riots this summer? What about the other side? No one cared when they (Black Lives Matter supporters) were rioting. My people are peaceful. My people aren't thugs'," an official told the daily on condition of anonymity.

Meanwhile, members of Trump's cabinet on Wednesday discussed the possibility of removing him from office, three US news channels reported.

The discussions focused on the 25th amendment to the US Constitution, which allows for a president's removal by the vice president and cabinet if he is judged "unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office."

Invoking it would require Vice President Michael Pence to lead the cabinet in a vote on removing him. CNN quoted unnamed Republican leaders saying the 25th amendment had been discussed, saying they had described Trump as "out of control." ABC reporter Katherine Faulders said "multiple" sources had told her that discussions took place. Trump's encouragement of the protesters raised questions about his ability to lead.

Capitol has seen violence, but nothing like this

The Capitol has been scarred by violence many times in its 220-years history. Here's a look at the some of the previous incidents

Set albaze by British

In 1814, just 14 years after the building opened, British forces in the War of 1812 tried to burn it down. The invaders looted the building first, and then set the southern and northern wings ablaze — incinerating the Library of Congress

President attacked

In 1835, a deranged house painter tried to shoot two pistols at President Andrew Jackson outside the building; the guns misfired, and Jackson caned his assailant into submission

Communists bomb Senate

The Weather Underground set off an explosive in 1971 to protest the US bombing of Laos, and on May 19th Communist Movement bombed the Senate in 1983 in response to the invasion of Grenada. Neither caused any deaths or injuries, but both resulted in hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage and led to tougher security measures

GLOBAL OUTRAGE

World in shock over 'disgraceful scenes in US'

WASHINGTON

WORLD leaders and governments expressed shock and outrage at the storming of the US Capitol in Washington by supporters of US President Donald Trump.

German Chancellor Angela Merkel said Thursday she was "furious and saddened" by the events and said Trump shared blame for the unrest.

"I deeply regret that President Trump has not conceded his defeat, since November and again yesterday," she said.

British Prime Minister Boris Johnson on Twitter condemned the "disgraceful scenes in US Congress. The United States stands for democracy around the world and it is now vital that there should be a peaceful and orderly transfer of power". Johnson criticised Trump for "encouraging" people to act violently. "And all I can say is I'm very pleased that the president-elect (Joe Biden) has now been properly confirmed and duly confirmed in office, and that democracy has prevailed," he added.

French President Emmanuel Macron said: "We will not give in to the violence of a few who want to question" democracy. In a video posted on his official Twitter account, he added: "What happened today in Washington is not American".

New Zealand Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern tweeted: "Democracy—the right of people to exercise a vote, have their voice heard and then have that decision upheld peacefully should never be undone by a mob."

Meanwhile, Facebook and Instagram said they will bar Trump from posting at least until the inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden. "The shocking events of the last 24 hours clearly demonstrate that President Donald Trump intends to use his remaining time in office to undermine the peaceful and lawful transition of power to his elected successor," Zuckerberg wrote. AFP

US trade body slams India's equalisation levy

At least 119 firms were identified as likely liable under the digital services tax, of which 72 per cent are US companies

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE United States Trade Representative's (USTR) office has slammed India's digital services tax, which it said discriminates against the US companies like Amazon, Google and Facebook. The USTR's findings released Wednesday were based on its 'Section 301' probe into the digital taxes levied by a number of countries, which could potentially result in retaliatory tariffs.

Underlining the 'discrimination', the report pointed out that of the firms subjected to India's equalisation levy of two per cent, 72 per cent are US companies. "Our investigation indicates that India's DST (Digital Services Tax) discriminates against US digital services companies," the USTR said, adding the laws exempt Indian companies from the same tax.

"The result is that the US 'non-resident' providers of digital services are taxed, while Indian providers of the same digital services to the same customers are not. This is discrimination in its clearest form," the report added.

The USTR pointed out that out of 119 companies likely subjected to the tax imposed by India, 86 companies were US-based ones. Of the rest, seven firms each were from China and the UK, while there were six French firms and five Japanese companies which too were impacted. The "investigation would support a finding that India's DST is actionable under Section 301," the USTR report said. Besides, India's levy taxes on companies' revenues rather than their income. This , it said, was inconsistent with the global tax principle that 'income and not revenue' should be the basis for corporate taxes.

Commerce Ministry officials admitted the probe could potentially lead to tariffs before President Donald Trump leaves office or even in the early days of President-elect Joe Biden's terms, but said they could show that there was no inherent discrimination in the tax.

Their contention was that the levy was imposed on foreign firms which did not have any significant operations in India but sold here, "in order to bring them on par with Indiane-commerce firms which were subject to a number of other taxes".."In any case, this levy is only on sales in India and does not tax sales outside the country," pointed out officials. USTR has called out taxes imposed not only by India but also France, Italy and Turkey as 'discriminatory'.

Seven bands on offer

The government will auction wireless spectrum in seven 4G bands: 700MHz, 800MHz, 900MHz, 1800 MHz, 2,100MHz, 2,300MHz and 2,500MHz.

Spectrum auction may see minimal competition

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

GOING by reserve prices, spectrum worth over ₹3.92 lakh crore is set to go under the hammer come March 1. But analysts say that telecom operators are likely to be shopping for value for money purchases and not renewing licences for all their expiring spectrum assets.

As it is, even if Bharti Airtel, Vodafone Idea, and Reliance Jio bid for all spectrum licenses that are expiring at the reserve price, this would only account for around ₹50,000 crore out of the ₹3.9 lakh crore worth airwaves available.

Analysts note that with finances still stressed, at least for Vodafone Idea and Bharti Airtel, telecom majors are unlikely to express interest in paying for non-essential spectrum. Brokerages such as BNP Paribas and ICICI Securities believe this will likely result in expensive lots, like those in the 700 MHz spectrum, left without many bids.

Analysts at Morgan Stanley note that they do not "expect much activity in the 700 MHz auction unless Jio decides to build some capacity for potential 5G roll-out this year".

As for renewals, while large chunks of Airtel and Vi licences expire this year, they have substantial back-up assets for most.

For Jio, however, the spectrum auctions are critical since much of the spectrum it uses through an agreement with RCom expires this year and it does not have any back-ups. "We expect Jio to not only renew about 44 MHz of its spectrum which was bought from RCom but also buy about 55 MHz of spectrum currently owned by RCom in the auctions. This would entail spectrum capex (capital expenditure) of about ₹240 billion (₹24,000 crore) at reserve prices with an upfront payment of about Rs60 billion (Rs 6,000 crore) if it were to opt for long-term funding,"according to Credit Suisse analysts.

But overall, analysts say participation is expected to remain tepid. "In our view, spectrum auction in India has turned into a buyer's market. We expect minimal competition with operators picking up spectrum that provides best value for money instead of focusing on renewing all their expiring spectrum," wrote BNP Paribas in a note.

PM to meet economists on Friday

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AHEAD of the Union Budget, Prime Minister Narendra Modi is going to meet the economists on Friday to take stock of the state of economy and seek their suggestions.

"The PM will be meeting economists personally to get a firsthand account of the economy and to take stock of the situation. He will discuss the path of economic recovery and the measures which are required to bring the economy back to track," said a senior official. The session is being organised by government think tank NITI Aayog, which will be held virtually. The meeting will also be attended by Niti Aayog vice-chairman Rajiv Kumar and CEO Amitabh Kant.

Over the last two to three years, Modi has been meeting economists and adding his own inputs to the budget making process. A few weeks ago, the Prime Minister also held a meeting with officials of the finance ministry and addressed a group of global investors. The upcoming budget holds greater significance as economy has been badly disrupted by the coronavirus pandemic As per the Reserve Bank of India, India's GDP is projected to contract 7.5 per cent in the current financial year ending March 31, 2021.

SBI MOPS UP $600 MN AT DIRT LOW RATE

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE Bank of India, the country's largest lender, on Thursday raised $600 million (about ₹4,500 crore) through an overseas bond sale offering just 1.8 per cent for a 5.5-year bond issuance. This is the first public dollar bond issued by an Indian scheduled commercial bank since the onset of Covid-19 last year and also the lowest coupon achieved by an Indian issuer for a 5.5-year issuance till date, the bank said in a release.

The issue, oversubscribed by 2.1 times, is part of the bank's $10 billion medium term note programme, the ratings of which were withdrawn by the ratings agency Moody's on Wednesday.

With this issue, two domestic financial institutions — Exim Bank and SBI — have opened the new year on a high raising $1.6 billion in a week. On Tuesday, Exim Bank raised $1 billion from selling bonds to international investors at a coupon of 2.25 per cent for the ten-year money.

The bond issuance, which also marks SBI's return to the international public bond markets after a gap of close to two years, is benchmarked against the five-year US Treasury, and priced at a spread of 140 bps over the benchmark. SBI concluded the issue of $600 million in Senior Unsecured Fixed Rate Notes (Regulation S bonds) that are sold by foreign issuers in the US and other overseas markets but cannot be subscribed by resident American investors. The bonds will be issued through SBI's London branch on January 13 and will be listed on Singapore Stock Exchange and India INX, the international bourse from BSE, the release added.

> This is an indication of confidence global investors have in the Indian banking sector generally...and is also testament to the access that SBI enjoys in the global capital markets — C Venkat Nageswar

The public sector lender went on to add that the transaction saw strong interest from investors across geographies with a final order book in excess of $1.9 billion. Strong demand, with a peak order book of $2.1 billion, helped it tighten pricing by 35 bps from initial guidance of T+175 bps to T+140 bps, the bank said.

"This is an indication of confidence global investors have in the Indian banking sector generally, and in SBI in particular and is also testament to the exceptional access that SBI enjoys in the global capital markets," C Venkat Nageswar (Deputy Managing Director — International Banking Group) said in a statement.

Pharma in Q3: India growth to recover, US to remain stable led by new launches

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE pharmaceutical industry, the latest breeding ground of India's billionaire promoters thanks to Covid-induced growth, is likely to report moderate growth during the quarter ended December 2020. Analysts say easing of lockdown to support some recovery in acute portfolio and injectable products in India, while the US revenues may see marginal growth sequentially led by new launches and specialty portfolio.

"We estimate India business to grow in high single digitas seen in secondary sales data. We forecast the EBITDA margin of covered companies at 22 per cent (+130bps YoY) led by revenue growth and cost control measures," analysts at ICICI Securities wrote in a note.

The Indian pharma market witnessed a growth of 6.4 per cent in value terms for Q3FY21, showed data from market research firm AIOCD-AWACS. Volumes declined 1.9 per cent, while prices and new introductions grew 4.9 per cent and 3.4 per cent, respectively.

Companies such as Aurobindo (with new product approvals and stable pricing), Dr Reddy's & Biocon (with new product launches in the US), Sun & Alembic (with traction in existing and specialty products) and Divis lab (led by strong demand for APIs from India), are expected to perform relatively better, they added. Dr Reddy's and Glenmark are estimated have largely flattish sales. Other key trend to watch out for is the weak start to flu season that could impact sales of Natco Pharma, Ajanta Pharman and Cadila Healthcare, said analysts at Edelweiss.

In healthcare, revenue is expected to improve 10 per cent sequentially driven by improvement in occupancy levels.

ONGC likely to miss production target for FY21

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-run oil and gas explorer ONGC may miss its production targets for the current financial year as the pandemic impacted overall operations and resulted in force majeure declarations by suppliers.

The oil major's crude oil production for FY21 is likely undershoot the company's targets by 4 per cent at 22.35 million metric tonnes, while gas output will be lower by 10 per cent at 22.73 billion cubic metres, said a research note by Emkay Securities after an interaction with ONGC's Director-Finance Subhash Kumar. For FY22, the respective crude oil and gas output targets are 22.92 mmt and 25 bcm. "Gas was impacted by Covid-19 in Q1. The KG-DWN-98/2 project was impacted by international supply chain disruption due to Covid-19, resulting in force majeure declaration by suppliers. It would take some time to ramp up production," said the note, adding that ONGC's overseas operations unit OVL is expected to see some production reduction, as well.

ONGC's standalone capital expenditure target for the next 4-5 years comes in at around $4.5-5 billion annually, but this may vary depending on new discoveries.

FCA, MG Motor step up SUV launches to fight it out in India

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

MG Motor has updated its Indian line-up by launching the 2021 version of its popular SUV Hector at a starting price of ₹12.89 lakh. The carmaker also launched the 7-seater version of Hector priced between ₹13.35 lakh and ₹18.33 lakh as it looks to increase its domestic sales by 70-75 per cent this year.

Rajeev Chaba, President and MD, MG Motor India and Chief Commercial Officer Gaurav Gupta

MG Motor India President and Managing Director Rajeev Chaba informed that MG Motor's sales grew by 77 per cent in 2020 even as the industry was down by 18 per cent. "So in 2021, I am expecting industry growth to be 15-20 per cent (albeit over low base) and we are expecting much more than that. At least 70-75 per cent growth is expected," Chaba said. Last year, the firm sold around 28,500 four-wheelers.

The growth is likely to come on the back of increased demand for its Hector range and a new mid-size SUV the company is expected to launch in the third quarter of 2021. The Hector 2021 five-seater comes with an all-new Bold Thermopressed Front Chrome Grille and gets enhanced with larger 18-inch dual tone alloys.

The car also has comes with new features like front ventilated seats, wireless charging, auto-dimming interior rear-view mirror and industry-first Hinglish voice commands.

However, MG is not the only player which is upscaling its SUV game. Rival Fiat Chrysler Automobiles (FCA) on Thursday also unveiled the 2021 Jeep Compass in the market.

The new Compass will be available for customer test drives nationwide by the end of January, the company said.

"We have now raised the bar, making the New Jeep Compass an even more compelling proposition, and one that incorporates customer feedback. The New Compass package offers an all-new level of sophistication, passenger comfort, technology and user experience while remaining true to its Jeep DNA," said Partha Datta President and Managing Director, FCA India said.

Separately, Skoda India on Thursday christened its first midsize SUV in the country, Kushaq, which is slated to be launched by the second quarter of 2021.

Spilling error in Sydney Test

Indian bowlers miss usual rhythm, keeper Pant drops two catches as hosts post 166/2

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

THE tension is palpable, heart going at a rate of knots. R Ashwin, with the ball in his hands, sizes up Marnus Labuschagne, the batsman at the striker's end. Ashwin has had the better of Australia's No 3, removing him twice while conceding only one boundary to him in four innings. The first ball of the off-spinner's first over, the inning's 14th, is a ghost ball, with Ashwin stopping in his tracks just at the point of delivery. Fun and games, prolonging the tension, knowing that he has lived rent-free in Labuschagne's head in the last few weeks.

With Australia at 36/1 and a newish ball in Ashwin's hands, he knows a wicket could again expose Steve Smith. The 34-year-old quickly finds his rhythm. Off his first 29 balls, 25 are dots. It's more or less that same line that troubled the hosts in Adelaide and Melbourne. Even if the pitch is slower and it's not as bouncy, he is getting the ball to drift. Debutant Will Pucovski leans into one with the bat away from the body. The drift catches the outside edge. Ashwin and the close-in fielders are already celebrating but Rishabh Pant drops the offering.

Australia batsmen negotiated R Ashwin (L) well on Day 1 | AFP

On a rain-affected day, the team will look back at this dropped chance — Pant dropped another one soon after, with Pucovski again the beneficiary off Mohammed Siraj — as the moment when the penny dropped. That Pucovski survived a run out chance during this charmed 30-minute period didn't help the visitors' cause. Post that first drop, the bowling became a touch short or too full and the batsmen took full advantage of it. Take for instance, Ashwin. His first five overs went for seven, with no boundaries. His next 12 overs went for 49, with seven boundaries.

Ominously, Steve Smith, didn't want to grope for deliveries like he had done previously. His first two scoring shots off Ashwin were boundaries, including a waltz down the track for a lofted drive. Free of trying to survive and in better conditions — this was the first time he had come into bat with the score past 100 in this series — he was laying down a marker.

It didn't help that an inexperienced attack lost their discipline a touch. If they had built up pressure in the first two Tests, there were too many release balls here. In Melbourne, the hosts only managed 28 boundaries and a six across 175 overs. In their total of 166/2 in 55 overs, that count is already on 17.

Even if debutant Navdeep Saini accounted for Pucovski, his pacey spell didn't trouble the batsmen as many times as he would have liked. All in all, this was probably India's worst bowling effort in whites for sometime. If they are to raise visions of keeping Australia to a manageable total, there has to be a slight course correction on Friday. "The wicket is very easy for the batsmen," Siraj, who removed Warner. "Even the bouncers are not carrying through, so we wanted to just focus on building dots and pressure. Patience is very important in Tests."

SCOREBOARD

Australia first innings: Warner c Pujara b Siraj 5, Pucovski lbw Saini 62, Labuschagne (batting) 67, Smith (batting) 31. Extras (nb1) 1. Total (two wickets, 55 overs) 166. Fall of wickets: 1-6, 2-106. Bowling: Bumrah 14-3-30-0, Siraj 14-3-46-1, Ashwin 17-1-56-0, Saini 7-0-32-1, Jadeja 3-2-2-0.

> I wouldn't say aggressive, just a bit more positive (against Ashwin). I wanted to put him under a little bit of pressure which I haven't done in this series. Been working on a few things, wanted to hold the bat tighter. Felt like I was getting into good positions.

SANTOSH INJURED IN CRASH

ENS/AGENCIES @Chennai

NOTED racer CS Santosh had to be put in a medically-induced coma after suffering a big accident during Stage 4 of the ongoing Dakar Rally in Saudi Arabia.

According to a late statement by Hero Motosports, "Santosh is currently receiving treatment at the Saudi German Hospital in Riyadh, after a high-speed crash on Wednesday." The statement also said that he does not have major physical injuries except for the dislocated right shoulder and head trauma. "The latest scans have also shown no major issue that could impact his full recovery. The medical team attending to him have decided that the best approach to manage the injury is to reduce the body functions to a minimum and keep him in a sedated condition or an artificial coma. He will be under observation for the next few days."

Stage 4 is, incidentally, the longest stage of the rally, spanning 813km. This was the Karnataka lad's seventh Dakar Rally. Santosh had a near-fatal accident during 2013 Abu Dhabi desert challenge, suffering burns to his neck after bike caught fire.

Bubble, new format as I-League returns

AYANTAN CHOWDHURY @New Delhi

THE All India Football Federation (AIFF) had successfully hosted the I-League Qualifiers in Kolkata, signalling the restart of live sports in the country during the pandemic. But the I-League is a whole different ball game with more matches, teams and personnel.

The qualifiers only had five teams and was a 25-day affair while the I-League will be played among 11 teams for over 100 days. The teams have been divided across two 5-star hotels — with RoundGlass Punjab FC, Indian Arrows, Chennai City FC, TRAU FC and Churchill Brothers FC in one hotel, while Real Kashmir FC, Mohammedan SC, Gokulam Kerala FC, Aizawl FC, Sudeva Delhi FC and Neroca FC are housed in the second. Officials and referees have been put in a separate hotel.

All this along with thousands of RT-PCR tests have not been easy either on the pockets of AIFF. League's CEO Sunando Dhar outlined how difficult the task at hand is. "AIFF is not a federation flush with funds. So we had to find a way best suited to our abilities. FIFA's Covid-19 fund helped us a lot in this regard. The West Bengal state government and the Indian Football Association have also been supportive," he said.

The SOP in place for the league includes each member in every team requiring to submit three negative Covid-19 RT-PCR tests before entering the bio-bubble. The samples had to be taken ten, six and two days prior to them entering the bubble. After checking in, the teams will again be tested on the second and fifth day followed by regular tests every 5-6 days and regular monitoring of body vitals. Each team has been allocated 20 rooms in the hotel, with the addition of a separate medical/physio room. A comprehensive list of dos-and-don'ts has been given to each team. The I-League starts on Saturday.

Restore rail concession: Rijiju to min

FIROZ MIRZA/AYANTAN CHOWDHURY @Chennai/New Delhi

SPORTS minister Kiren Rijiju on Thursday requested Piyush Goyal, minister of railways, commerce and industry, to restore concession in fares for sportspersons. This was done after he was apprised of the difficulties athletes were facing, especially when select national sports federations were conducting nationals. Concession for sportspersons is crucial for most state units as funding travel of athletes is usually difficult. Some NSFs felt sponsorship too would be a problem this year and without concessions, athletes' turnout will be poor.

The railway ministry, through its circular dated March 19, 2020, had suspended fare concessions across 38 categories, which include athletes and senior citizens. It is understood that the move was aimed at discouraging train journey to contain the spread ofvirus.But sporting activities like shooting have resumed.

Air pollution ups risk of pregnancy loss in India

In a first, new Lancet study links miscarriages & stillbirths in South Asia to exposure to ambient particulate matter

HEALTH

BEIJING: Pregnant women in India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, who are exposed to poor air quality, may be at higher risk of stillbirths and miscarriages, according to a modelling study published in The Lancet Planetary Health journal.

Researchers found that an estimated 349,681 pregnancy losses per year in south Asia were associated with exposure to PM2.5 concentrations that exceeded India's air quality standard of 40 microgrammes per cubic metre ('g/m3) of small particulate matter (PM2.5).

These account for 7 per cent of annual pregnancy loss in the region from 2000-2016, they said. For air pollution above WHO air quality guideline of of 10 'g/m3, exposure may have contributed to 29 per cent of pregnancy losses, according to the study.

"South Asia has the highest burden of pregnancy loss globally and is one of the most PM2.5 polluted regions in the world," said study lead author Tao Xue, from Peking University, China.

"Our findings suggest that poor air quality could be responsible for a considerable burden of pregnancy loss in the region, providing further justification for urgent action to tackle dangerous levels of pollution," Xue said.

Tianjia Guan, from the Chinese Academy of Medical Sciences said that losing a pregnancy can have knock-on mental, physical and economic effects on women.

These, Guan said, include increased risk of postnatal depressive disorders, infant mortality during subsequent pregnancy, and increase the costs related to pregnancy, such as loss of labour.

"Therefore, reducing pregnancy loss may also lead to knock-on improvements in gender equality," Guan, one of the authors of the study said.

The researchers noted that pregnancy loss associated with air pollution was more common in the Northern plains region in India and Pakistan.

Although the total burden of pregnancy loss was predominantly borne by rural women aged under 30 years old in recent years, the burden attributable to PM2.5 also affected older mothers, aged 30 years or over, in rural areas because of their high susceptibility to the adverse effects of pollution, they said. The team combined data from household surveys on health from 1998-2016 and estimated exposure to PM2.5 during pregnancy through mixing satellite with atmospheric modelling outputs.

They created a model to calculate the risk of pregnancy loss for each 10 'g/m3 increase in PM2.5 after adjusting for maternal age, temperature and humidity, seasonal variation, and long-term trends in pregnancy loss.

The researchers calculated the number of pregnancy losses that may have been caused by PM2.5 in the whole region for the period 2000-16 and looked at how many pregnancy losses might have been prevented under India's and WHO's air quality standard.

World's top supercomputers

The world's most pressing problems have led scientists and mathematicians to use technology to look for solutions. Whether they are economic crises, climate change or neurological diseases, the problems are highly complex and generally intractable. Enter supercomputers

WHAT DO THEY DO?

The computers take in a lot of variables and run simulations. The world's most powerful supercomputer, Fugaku, runs simulations on how respiratory droplets circulate in trains or offices

Beijing's temperature at 50-year lows

WEATHER

BEIJING: Temperatures in the Chinese capital plunged to their lowest for more than five decades on Thursday, as Beijing was hit by gale-force winds and bitter conditions.

On Thursday morning the mercury dropped to minus 19.6° Celsius, breaking a prior cold weather record set in 1969.

The cold reading was the lowest since 1966, when temperatures in the city fell to minus 27.4° Celsius.

Thousands took to social media to complain about the city's weather, with the hashtags "How cold is this winter?" and "Beijing's temperature reaches the lowest since 1966" both trending topics on Weibo and garnering a collective 240 million views. "I heard the wind shouting at me: I want to kill you," wrote one.

Yet there was no snow and little ice on Thursday, as the atmosphere over the city was extremely dry.

The last time temperatures fell to this level, the founder of communist China Chairman Mao was at the helm, and about to embark on the ten-year Cultural Revolution -- a decade-long period of social and political chaos that also quashed political rivals.

The same year, to dispel rumours about his failing health, the then-73-year-old Mao also swam across the waters of the Yangtze river in a political stunt to prove his youthfulness.

Beijing regularly battles dry, bitter winters due to sharp currents from the northwest.

But climate change campaigners warn that as the earth warms, the number of extreme weather events will increase and become more deadly.

Earlier this year large parts of China were hit by severe flooding, affecting millions of people and farmland, washing away roads and forcing the closure of some tourist sites and transport links.

Mexican ban on GMO corn

ENVIRONMENT

Environmental campaigners have welcomed a Mexican ban on growing genetically modified maize and the phasing out of a controversial weed-killer -- a step that has met opposition in the private sector. Imports of genetically modified maize will also be gradually prohibited over the next three years, along with the use of glyphosate, an herbicide described by the World Health Organization as "probably carcinogenic." Leftist President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador's government said the decree, which took effect at the start of this year, aimed to safeguard the country's food sovereignty and protect its cherished native corn. Maize has occupied a prominent place in the Mexican diet since pre-Hispanic times.

Fastest Wi-Fi standard

TECHNOLOGY

Heralding a new era for the next generation of Wi-Fi in one of its biggest update in 20 years, the Wi-Fi Alliance, the industry-wide group that oversees Wi-Fi, said it has started to certify the first wave of products with support for Wi-Fi 6E. Phones, PCs, and laptops with support should start arriving in the market this year. "Interoperability certification for Wi-Fi 6E is introduced as global momentum for Wi-Fi operation in the 6 GHz band increases daily. Wi-Fi 6E brings the immense benefits of 6 GHz spectrum to consumers, device manufacturers..." Countries including Brazil, Canada, Mexico, Peru, Taiwan, Japan, Saudi Arabia, Myanmar and Jordan are quickly progressing towards opening 6 GHz for unlicensed operation.

1.5 mn doses for S Africa from Serum

MEDICINE

JOHANNESBURG: South Africa will receive one million COVID-19 vaccine doses from the Pune-based Serum Institute of India this month, followed by an additional 5,00,000 doses in February, the health minister told Parliament on Thursday, amid a spike in virus infections in the country.

AstraZeneca has partnered with the Serum Institute of India (SII), the world's largest vaccine manufacturer, for the supply of the vaccine to the Indian government and also to a large number of low and middle-income countries.

The vaccine, developed along with the University of Oxford, is made from a virus which is a weakened version of a common cold virus (adenovirus).

Addressing Parliament's portfolio committee on health, health minister Zweli Mkhize said the vaccine shots would be used on healthcare workers.

The government had come under fire in the past week for allegedly having neglected to make payments on time to secure its part of the vaccines in the Covax consortium of almost 200 countries.

Indonesia's Merapi volcano spews hot clouds

GEOLOGY

YOGYAKARTA: Indonesia's Mount Merapi volcano spewed avalanches of hot clouds Thursday morning as hundreds more residents were evacuated from its fertile slopes.

Authorities evacuated more than 500 people living on the mountain in Magelang district on Java Island. Thousands of people already have had to leave their homes and farmland because of the dangers on Merapi, Indonesia's most active volcano.

Light eruptions continued during the day — one sending a column of hot clouds rising 200 meters (yards) into the air. The initial eruption was obscured by fog, but using seismic and other data, the Geological Disaster Technology Research and Development Center estimated the hot clouds spread less than 1 km from the crater.

"Until now, the potential danger is not more than 5 km," chief of Yogyakarta's Volcanology and Geological Hazard Mitigation Center, Hanik Humaida, said.

ALLERGIES

Only 1 in 1,00,000 showed severe reaction to vaccine

RESEARCH

WASHINGTON: Roughly one in a hundred thousand people who received the Pfizer-BioNTech Covid-19 vaccine have had severe allergic reactions, US health officials said Wednesday while stressing that the benefits of immunisation greatly outweigh the known risks.

The data comes from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, which documented 21 cases of anaphylaxis after administration of a reported 1,893,360 shots from December 14 to December 23.

"This averages out to a rate of 11.1 anaphylaxis cases per one million doses administered," senior CDC official Nancy Messonnier told reporters.

By comparison, flu vaccines cause about 1.3 anaphylaxis cases per million doses administered, and so the rate of anaphylaxis for the Pfizer vaccine is roughly ten times greater.

Messonnier added that anaphylaxis cases were still "exceedingly rare" and it remains in people's best interest to take the vaccine, particularly in the context of the Covid-19 pandemic that is a far greater danger to their health.

"A good value proposition for someone to get vaccinated is their risk from Covid and poor outcomes from Covid is still more than the risk of a severe outcome from the vaccine," she said.

"Fortunately, we know how to treat anaphylaxis, and we've put provisions in place to ensure that at immunization sites, the folks administering the vaccine are ready to treat anaphylaxis."

The 21 cases ranged in age from 27 to 60 years old, with a median age of 40, and all but two were treated with epinephrine.

Nineteen of the cases (90 percent) occurred in females, and the median onset time of symptoms was 13 minutes, but ranged from two to 150 minutes.

Four (19 percent) of patients were hospitalized, including three in intensive care, and 17 (81 percent) were treated in an emergency department.
